

OUR SHOP . . .

Did you hear about John Snyder, Ralph Tew, Ralph's wife and George Young going fishing? On a Saturday, recently, they tried to close the shop at 1:00 p.m. for an overnight trip to the Upper Summer Bridge but it was late when they finally did get underway and after dark when they made camp. Now, just who would think that it would rain? Fish were caught but so were colds.

The wheels, of your car, if out of line, only a fraction, can cause serious tire wear. These men can remedy this as well as catch fish.

These lessons should be of real value to all those interested in any craft or related art, as the principles such as interior decoration, landscaping, dress designing, and perhaps most important of all, the appreciation of just what good art is.

Anyone interested in enrolling may attend the Friday evening class at the Studio in the rear of the Manley Building.

Little Ole Brookings By The Sea

WRITTEN BY MRS. PAT GIBSON FOR THE 1956 LIONS CLUB and BARBERSHOP MINSTREL SHOW

This here poem's to you from me.
You are sure a pretty town,
With the rain all coming down.
Never need to fear a drought,
Just hope your front yard won't wash out!
(And never hang your washing out.)

'Course the streets are none too hot
But SCENERY, that's what we got,
So who cares if there's holes and mud,
And through the rocks and ruts we thud.
We don't swear and cuss and stew,
We slow down, and admire the view!
(And hope the tires don't wear through.)

And even when the lights go off,
And we are dying with a cough,
And all of the kids have got the flu,
And after that, the measles too.
We don't worry, fret, or frown,
And curse the day we saw this town.
(We get inside, so we don't drown!)

The driveway's flooded, fishing's bad,
The T.V. won't work, we're getting mad.
Got poison oak, chewed up with fleas,
The wind blew down the myrtle trees.
But do we give up, and start to pack?
NO! The roads are washed out, they'd send us back!

So sick or well, lights off or on,
Damp or dry, we carry on!
And Brookings, dear, we love you still,
And cause we're NUTS, we always will.
And now, farewell, adieu, goodbye,
This poem is finished; so am I.
('Course you know, it was all a lie.)
