

HARBOR NEWS

George Oldham, who was injured in an automobile accident near the state line last week, was able to be brought home Thursday. He suffered two broken ribs, concussion, a badly injured knee and sundry cuts and bruises and must remain in bed for a while. He will be able to go back to work in six weeks or two months if he continues to improve as he is now. His mother, Mrs. J. K. Murphy of Newport and his sister, Mrs. Clair Fluke of Agness, were here to visit him from Thursday to Saturday.

L. G. Stafford is reported to be feeling better since coming home. He has two nurses caring for him at the present time.

Mrs. Walter Pearmine left for Los Angeles last week where she will visit her sister, Mrs. J. W. Withrow, who has been in poor health.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Payne spent the weekend at the home of their daughter Mrs. Gene Reiling in Grants Pass. While there, they attended the joint installation of officers of the Grants Pass VFW Post and Auxiliary, with Mrs. Reiling being installed as President of the Auxiliary.

Mrs. William T. Matnews and daughter, Pat, of Calpella, were weekend visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Masset.

Aunt Sue Benham was able to come home from the Seaside Hospital, last week, but still needs someone with her. Her sister, Mrs. Kate Jamison, who was looking after her, was taken ill and is at the home of a niece, Mrs. Milton DeMartin.

Several lily growers left Tuesday for Corvallis to attend the open house at Oregon State College during which the results of experimentation of the Easter Lilies will be shown. This work is financed from the nurseryman's license charged the bulb growers and is of great importance to the lily growers.

Nick Baumgartner, Sr., is now at home after a bout in the Seaside Hospital, with his daughter, Mrs. Louise Cooke caring for him. He will need to remain in bed for at least a month, according to reports.

REPORT ON WALKING JOHN

Jess Ellis dropped in to tell us he saw Walking John tramping through Newport, this past week end.

BROOKINGS GOLD CACHE?

Who got, or will get the $20 Gold Piece?

Mrs. Anna Clark has been down visiting her son, Jack, at Santa Rosa, and besides bringing back word to all who knew Jack during the Old Mill Days that he is doing just fine and has been operating a cat for the California Highway Department for years. He told her that when a portion of the foundations for the old mill were being poured, he was standing right beside Mr. Brookings when the latter tossed a $20 gold piece into the mix.

If Jack confided in his mother as to just where that gold Eagle was tossed, she didn't say, and may have ideas on doing some prospecting herself. Jack's Enid's (Mrs. Glen Hurst) brother, born on the old Clark place, up on Pistol River, and often asked for by the old timers, Wilma, (Mrs. Oscar Miller) of Crescent City, is another of Anna's daughters.

BILLETS WANTED

A man dropped into the Pilot Office, this week, looking for some unusual material. He wanted billets of wood six inches square by 17 1/2 inches long—oodles of them. Needed them in Portland where he was processing 35M board feet a day, and must have enough "stumpage" to run to 50M feet or better. He was scouring the coast for this material and said he thought he had established a good source in Brookings. Asked why he didn't move his processing plant nearer the source, said his market was in the Portland area, but he might find it better to have it closer to the raw material supply.

CAMELIAS ARE BEING PROCESSED NOW

Nearly two thousand camelias have been put to bed in the lath houses at the Azalea Farm. At present they are mere "whips" which Gary Wimberly hopes to shape into real ornamental shrubs. They are a galaxy of varieties and should be ready for market in another year or so. The farm has been a principal source of azaleas going north into the area where the plants were destroyed by the early December frosts. Several thousands of hydrangeas are also in process, from gorgeous blooming plants to dormant cuttings just getting ready for their seasonal growth.

OTHER JOBS

A great deal of publicity has been given the hot search for technical college graduates, especially in the various engineering fields, and nothing has been said about the need for business staffs to keep them employed, and less yet, about those who may be called upon to carry on the work of both the engineers and executives. Neither has there been much publicity on the men and women who are to do the merchandising of their concentrated efforts. Possibly the latitude of potential employment is wider the further one gets from concentrated knowledge on one specific topic, but all are needed in bringing that which, today, is but a scientist's wildest vision to tomorrow's acceptance as commonplace.

The young folks, thinking on these lines, need not be so dazed as they stand on the platform, a fresh high school diploma in their sweating hands. They will, eventually, find their place in the world, too.

NEW BUILDING DATA

All turf inside the side walls of homes being built must be skinned down to solid earth, according to instructions being put out by W. N. Kernan, appraiser for the Department of Veteran Affairs. This will also facilitate getting the lower woodwork of the building the required 18 inches above all the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Smith returned last Tuesday from several months touring Europe.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ed Dempsey returned home this past week from a trip to Los Angeles.
