Asks For Support For George Sutton

W. H. Gauntlett, deputy Assessor, announced to the Pilot that he is not a candidate for county assessor, and that he is supporting George Sutton for that post.

Gauntlett said that rumor had reached him regarding writing in his name for assessor, but he was emphatic in denying that he was seeking the post. Sutton did not file. However, Gauntlett said that he is supporting Sutton 'since he is the one man with the necessary experience to carry on the work of the assessor's office during the period of property re-appraisal. The work on this re-appraisal is just now beginning and will be conducted jointly by the county and the state.'

He said further that "Mr. Sutton has signified his willingness to continue in office during this difficult period."

VOCATION

Young men of the area may get an idea of their future by looking upward a bit at another young man, working just east of the Shell Service Station. This young man is a highly-trained craftsman engaged in a well-paid vocation. He is a cable-splicer. He had to learn his trade and he is probably continuously employed. When he is done he will have spliced hundreds of wire ends, wrapped them in insulation, tucked them together and finally bound them with a lead sheath which he must make both water and weather proof. He will leave a "swelled" place on the cable, and wherever you see one, some cable splicer has been likewise building America.

And when he has spliced all the circuits and tested them for continuity, another highly trained technician, or more, take over, connecting them properly to the busses and busses to the exchange and so on, so everytime you dial a number the probabilities are, if they have done their job properly, you will make your connection, not realizing that it has been made possible by that cable splicer, the maintenance men, the linemen, and all the closed the program with "It's Almost Tomorrow" and "I'll Be Home."

BANK DEPOSITS NEAR 5 MILLION

Figures just released by the United States National Bank show a deposit of $759,288,322 as of April 10th. This is an increase of 12 1/2 million dollars over the April 11, 1955 report.

The Brookings Branch reported deposits of $4,885,328.25, according to E. L. Morton, manager.

Loans and discounts for the home-owned statewide banking system increased more than 43 million dollars during the past year. The 12-month gain gives U. S. National a loans and discounts a total of $320,952,997. This represents an increase of better than 11 million dollars since the end of December.

Loans and discounts for the Brookings Branch now total $3,436,214.35. Morton stated

Reflecting the growth of the state it serves, U. S. National also showed an increase in total resources in the 12-month period. Total resources now stand at $827,482,830 — up 17 1/2 million from a year ago.

Commenting in U. S. National's growth, E. C. Sammons, the president, had this to say, "It is our firm conviction that the continuing expansion of our bank reflects the confidence of the people of this state in the economy of this area and of the nation."

In January U. S. National opened a new branch in Coos Bay following merger of the Coos Bay National Bank of Marshfield with U. S. National. In late March, Oregon's first complete motor bank was opened by U. S. National adjoining the head office in Portland. The five-story structure provides convenient "bank-from-your-car" service, handling business for both head office and branch customers, as well as off-street parking on three levels for customers while banking at the head office.

COUNTY ROAD LABOR

In a summary of the financial proceedings of the Curry County Court's session of April 4th, a total of some $6,000 in wages was charged against the General Road Fund in that portion of the county extending northward of Gold Beach, while about $2,500 was checked against labor south of the county seat. These figures are based on the probable residence of those receiving the money although they may have been employed elsewhere in the county and some of the wages went to residents well up the Rogue River.

Together with incidental expenditures—gas, parts, etc.—it would appear that about two-thirds of the general road fund went into the upper end of the county and only one-third into the lower end.

There are many more miles of county road from Pistol River north than there are south of that stream.

Other men who have learned their trades—learned the coordination of headwork with handwork.
