

Even Archbishops Have Problems

Last week we ran a story on the expected arrival and visit of Archbishop Edward D. Howard D. D. in Brookings. Things didn't quite work out the way plans had been made. Because of a severe wind the Bishop's plane was unable to land in Crescent City and he had to continue on to Arcata. Father Keiss and his mother, who were waiting here to welcome the Bishop, were quite upset about the delay but somewhat relieved when the Bishop arrived several hours late.

Everything should have been fine then because the service wasn't until the following morning, but as fate would have it, Rev. Howard's luggage failed to make the trip to Brookings with him. The luggage was found in San Francisco and flown back to Crescent City. At 3:00 Sunday afternoon, June 24, Father Keiss was waiting for a lady who was driving up from Crescent City with the luggage.

It was Ten Years Ago This Week That

Ed Ackley hung out his proverbial shingle, announcing he was attorney in the Central Office Bldg.

Rod & Gun club ran a dilly of a shoot at the state line with Mrs. Joe Zumpfe, Larry Pinson, Gordon Case among others recorded as prize winners and Wayne Blagdon picked up a .22 on account of a ticket Mary Lou Berger took out of a hat.

Billy Jim Ward opened a shoe store.

Hot warning of possible stray Jap mines on beaches.

Officers-elect of the Harbor Community Club: Mrs. Bertha Moore, president; Mrs. Hazel Hendry, vice president and Mrs.

The last we heard the Bishop was on his way to conduct services at Gold Beach and Port Orford, without any more difficulties, we hope.

Missouri; Morgan, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Bernadine Steele summer-schooling at University of Hawaii.

Bridal shower for Doris Carpenter.

Son Jim and family down visiting parents, the Will Crisseys.

EUCALYPTUS BLOOMS
Many of the common variety of eucalyptus trees hereabouts are bursting silver plumes of blossoms and soon the ground beneath them will be scattered with nuts.

DEVILS LAKE TO BE POISONED NEXT WEEK

FOR SCRAP OTHER FISH, ETC.
Devils Lake up in the northern part of Lincoln county will be cleaned of scrap and other fish next week by the State Game Commission. Rotenone will be dumped into the lake to kill off the unwanted carp and a few game fish, readying it for replanting with more attractive varieties. The fish stunned by the rotenone are entirely edible and people are invited to come and help themselves.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

"Keep The Change"

If you've seen "Mac" Johnson this week, chances are he's told you his waitress story. For those who haven't heard:

"Mac" recently stopped at an out-of-town diner. He ordered the chef's special—and his waitress (brand new on the job) made every possible mistake. She confused the order, spilled the soup, dropped the rolls, brought him a wrong dessert.

Despite it all, "Mac" left a substantial tip. But she smiled and handed the money back. "Keep it, Mister—you've sure earned it more than I have," she said. From where I sit, that girl deserves credit for admitting her shortcomings — something not everyone is big enough to do. For instance, I'm convinced lots of folks know they're wrong when they deny me the right to a glass of beer with my supper... just because they happen to prefer some other beverage. They wouldn't like me ordering them to accept my choice.

County Court Unit of OCA

Requests 101 Take Top Priority at June Meeting

Members of the County Court unit of the Oregon Coast Association met with the state highway commission, at its June meeting requesting that 101 take top priority in the allocation of funds outside the interstate highway system. The multi-billion dollar highway bill which has been passed by Congress places U S 99 throughout the state and US 30 to Portland in this system.

The county court unit, headed by Judge James Harrison of Coos county, represents all seven coastal counties traversed by 101. Judge Harrison, in his opening statement to the commission, stated the urgent need for elimination of the bottlenecks which hamper the flow of tourist traffic at both the north and south ends of the state.

The unit asked the commission to let them know how much state and federal funds would be available this year. It is planned to push this request through to an early and favorable answer.

STOLEN CAR FOUND

There's a story that a car had been seen parked for over a month, at the State Line airport. It was deep covered in dust and many who saw it thought it belonged to someone who had flown away and just parked it there. Investigation brought up the fact that it belonged to Gus Schniedau of Gold Beach and had been stolen from his garage while he was off on a trip, hence had not been reported missing.

New Hope For Chrome Industry

The federal government has extended the time of its purchase of chrome an additional two years. The original plan of purchase was to expire June 30, 1957.

For the operators of Oregon's chromite mines this extended purchase program is one of the best things that could have happened to the industry reports Hollis M. Dole, director of Oregon's department of geology and mineral industries. Before this announcement was made Dole feared that many of the industries would have to shut down and reopening at a later date would be expensive or even impossible in some cases.

In the past two years Oregon's chromite mines, which number near forty, have done nearly 500,000 dollars worth of business. Dole also reports that for some sections of southwestern and central Oregon the economy is dependent upon the chrome industry
