

VACATION TIME --- DRIVE SAFELY

July is vacation time throughout the nation. Everywhere cars are being loaded as families prepare to take off to their favorite vacation or on a trip to see a new part of the country. Will you soon be joining the many who depend on their cars to make this vacation an enjoyable one.

How is your car? It is prepared to make the trip you have planned? Are the tires in the best possible condition? How are the brakes? Are the windshield working? (Who've ever heard of a vacation where it didn't rain at least one day?) Are all the lights in proper working order? The headlights? Tail lights? Parking lights? Signal lights? A car in top-notch conditions is the first step toward a safe and successful vacation.

As you pack your car think of SAFTY first. Have you left the rear window clear so the driver can make complete use of the rear view mirror? Does the driver have plenty of elbow room? Oregon state law allows only three in the front seat and that includes the driver.

All set to go? Have a pleasant trip and DRIVE SAFELY!

SAMONBERRY RIVER FISH-LIFE PRACTICALLY NIL

Inspection by state game commission biologists has shown that siltation from logging operations in the Samonberry River of Clatsop county has practically destroyed their food and there were as were found were in poor condition, owing to the silt having destroyed their food and there were no small fish hatched in the stream this spring.

On a nearby unlogged branch, the biologist found cutthroat and steelhead of three age groups, including newly hatch one.

SOME COMMON FALLACIES ABOUT WOOD

By Forest Products Laboratory Forest Service U. S. Department of Agriculture, Madison, Wis.

FALLACY 10.—That limbs rise higher from the ground as the tree grows older.

This phenomenon would obviously require the stretching of the interior wood where the limb is attached, and trees simply do not grow that way. A new layer of wood is put on every year over the tree as it stands, limbs and all. What goes on this year stays put. If there is a limb 10 feet from the ground now, that is where it will be next year, unless it breaks off or is cut off.

FRANK HASSETS LEAVING TO MAKE HOME IN LEBANON

After many years residence here Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hassett will soon be leaving to make their home in Lebanon. Their old home has been taken over by their daughter, June and her husband, Dick Joelson. Frank and Manilla came to Brookings nearly thirty years ago and their home has become a landmark, out Pioneer Road. It has recently become advisable that they leave here and return to their former home in Lebanon where they have many kinfolk. Needless to say, they leave a host of friends around here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joelson, vacationing from their work at the Naval Base on Kodiak Island are fixing up the old home and, of course, Mr. and Mrs. George Hassett, retain their home on the old place.

SHRINERS TREK WILL BE SUNDAY, AUGUST 5

The eleventh annual Shrine Trek to St. Mary's Peak, 27 miles west of Corvallis will take place on the 5th of August, a Sunday. Object of the trek is to add to the Shrine hospital funds for the helping of crippled children. The past ten treks have netted nearly $150,000 to the fund.

Many children from here owe their health to the ministrations of the Shrine hospitals.

A twelve pound trout caught by George McClane recently in Agency Lake, is resting in George's Superette Market deep freeze, Canyonville, just in case anybody shows up doubting George's best fish story. On the same trip, the party got some eight pounders and several small ones.
