Letter to Editor

The Grants Pass Active club as one of the co-sponsors of our local Soap Box Derby, would like to express their appreciation for the fine delegation of contestants from Brookings. We realize, of course, that Honorary Activian Tom McKenzie had a great deal to do with generating the enthusiasm for our event in your city.
I have heard a great deal of comment about the fine sportsmanship and competitive spirit displayed by the Brookings group. I hope that the boys enjoyed competing in our derby, and that we will be able to see as many, if not more next year.
Sincerely yours,
Arthur R. Johnson,
Secretary

Ambassadors For Brookings

Folk from all 'round the world will soon be hearing about Brookings. This week twelve year old Nancy Kuhnem and fourteen year old Priscilla Anderson came into the office to get large envelopes. "We want them large enough to put this pamphlet about Brookings in them," the girls explained.
These bulky letters were to be sent to their pen friends and what a lot they have! Nancy has pen friends in Ireland and in four of the states. Priscilla corresponds with young people in England, Ireland, India and Malaya, as well as fifteen friends in various parts of the United States.
"One of them is moving from California soon. I hope she'll move to Brookings," Priscilla added hopefully.
Both of the girls have learned many things about the homelands of their correspondents. Priscilla described an Indian Spring Festival which is held in February where everyone wears yellow clothing and turbans.
These two girls are examples of the many young people who are corresponding with young people in all part of the world. They are acquiring a knowledge which will help them to be tolerant world-minded citizens.
