Have been trying for three weeks to get this message over to you and here it is. One beautiful ocean frontage acre where you can walk right down to the beach. And while we are on this acre let me remind you that wild pigeon season opens this Saturday and this is right in the very best spot for shooting. Bought an acre ourselves right close to this one and you know that I will be there for the opening of the season. You know that ocean frontage is practically a thing of the past, so if interested let us hear from you right soon.

Last week our ad was so garbled up I doubt if anyone made sense out of it. Lets see if the Pilot can do better this time. Sorry to have to say this but we just don't want you to think that we are at fault for all of these mistakes in our ads. They will probably tell me to take my advertising elsewhere and if they do I guess I will just have to start my own news sheet. At least their machinery is right next door & I could rent their equipment and go to press the first of the week.

So for the straight goods on swell listings come in and see us in person. We know that we can please you as a buyer and at the same time make the seller very happy with the clean, conscientious, courteous, satisfactory way we handle all the transactions through our office.
