

TWO NEW BRIDGES ON 199

The State Highway Commission at its last meeting awarded contracts for the building of bridge piers across the Illinois near Kerby, and a new bridge across Slate Creek, near Wilderville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Guerattaz have been vacationing in Idaho for the past couple of weeks. Had a nice time but glad to get home.

Marion Comfort, of the Curry County Lumber Co., and family, is visiting for a week in Caldwell, Idaho where they will also attend the wedding of Mrs. Comfort's brother, Edwin Fankouser.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Stevens of Portland have been visiting Mrs. Stevens' parents, the Almo Newtons.

Al and Margaret Phillips and the boys had a nice vacation camping and lolling about Diamond Lake. They report it was rather chilly for bathing, fine for boating and they saw some wonderful trout others caught.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller brought Mr. and Mrs. Henry Beaulieu's grandson and granddaughter down from Corvallis for a weekend visit. They all went home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hurst took in the Sacramento Fair this last weekend.

Wonder if all the little and big kiddies each took an apple to their teacher Tuesday morning?

Mrs. Grace Haskins, who has been visiting the Almo Newtons for a spell, returned to her home in the Applegate country, this last weekend.

Grandma Now Tourist

A mother and her two daughters seeking tourist information—specifically—roadside camp sites on 101.

Mother, it turned out, had retired because she'd reached the age limit after twenty-seven years employment at one place. Daughters submitted the idea mother should take a good long trip—a camping trip—to cushion release from so long a spell of work. Mother bucked at the idea of a camping trip but the family, seems like, ganged up on her and perhaps to get away from them all she submitted.

Arriving in Brookings after a three weeks sweep of the National parks strung up and down the Rockies, they were on their way home—home being in the Puget Sound country.

Mother told us, quite emphatically, that she was now a camping-out addict, not only that but she'd bet there were mighty few touring grandmothers who'd swum, raw, in the Snake, the Yellowstone and the Colorado rivers, let alone sundry creeks, enroute, where they pulled out for a bath and a bit of laundry work.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Ault were up looking their former home town over this past week end. They're residents of southern California now.

Don Ross, manager of the local Commercial Finance office, is back in town. Don, it will be remembered, was taken dangerously ill, over a month ago, and had fourteen transfusions of whole blood from the Walking Blood Bank.
