HARBOR NEWS

We enjoyed front page story last week about the "youngest grandmother, Mrs. George McKay" of Smith River. More people in this area would recognize who this youngest grandmother is if her name was spelled correctly. "Mackey". Mr. Mackey is the son of the late Hattie Mackey who lived for about twenty five years near Jack's creek up the south bank road, and is a brother of Mrs. Andrew Jackson, who still makes her home there.

Mrs. Myrtle Schaal is recuperating satisfactorily from a major operation at the home of her son, Clarence Howie, 145 "N" street in Crescent City. She is able to have visitors now and would enjoy having her many friends visit her. Her mailing address is Box 982, Crescent City if any one wishes to send her a card.

Another former well known Harbor resident, Mrs. Bertha Moore is in the Seaside hospital in a serious condition at the present time. Mrs. Moore underwent an operation last week and may have to have another one any time. The last report was that she could not have visitors at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Walker and children returned here Sunday after an absence of about two months. Mr. Walker, the former proprietor of the Harbor Garage, has been attending a factory school at the Carter Carburetor and Fuel Injection Company in St. Louis, Missouri. He was selected by the company to attend this school their expense as they considered him an outstanding man in this field. He plans to establish a shop in the Harbor area and will have some new modern tune up machines in it.

Mr. and Mrs. James Archibald are the proud parents of their first child, seven pound two ounce James Scott, born at the Seaside hospital on October 25.

Another addition to the population of the area is Robin Annet, a seven pound three ounce miss that joined the Gary Wimberly family on November 3.

Ole Lindgren received word of the death of his father, Carl Lindgren in Hinkley, Minnesota on October 31 after a period of poor health. Mr. and Mrs. Lindgren visited at the home of his father this past summer after the father and son hadn't seen each other for nearly thirty years.
