

Holy Land Color Film Shown Here

"BAKSHEESH", a new 16mm kodachrome sound film made in the Holy Land will be shown at the Brookings Bible church at 7 p.m. next Sunday, December 2. This film is the dynamic story of a Christian adventure in the Holy Land, of a group of Americans who have ranged off the tourist-beaten paths, past the souvenir stores and looked beyond the sacred sites, to find a people deeply in need of Christian understanding and help. "BAKSHEESH" presents the work of The Holy Land Christian Approach Mission in a land as colorful and picturesque as it is needy.

The story of the establishing of a Home and School for nearly 300 unwanted, homeless orphan children is unfolded in this film, a pioneer hospital for crippled children, medical clinics which freely serve the poor, and the distribution of clothing to thousands of refugees. These divisions of the work are maintained in connection with the Mission's extensive

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Straley returned home Sunday from a two and half week trip which took them to Moses Lake, Washington, Hermiston and Ukiah, Oregon where they visited relatives and friends. At Ukiah they report that it was 14 below zero a week ago Monday, and they are glad to be back to the coast weather.

religious program, all portrayed in the film. To make this picture most unique and unusual, the Christmas bells of Bethlehem and carols played on the famed Church of Nativity organ are used as background music. The public is cordially invited for the showing of "BAKSHEESH". A free-will offering will be taken after the film for the mission.

Chetco Grange Takes Booster Night First

For the second straight year, the Chetco Grange has been selected at taking first place in Oregon in the Booster Night program presents by its lecturer, Maude Lohgacre, on October 5. An exceptionally good program was presented by Mrs. Lohgacre with the aide of other Grangers and local people.

In 1955 Chetco Grange also placed first in the state with Mrs. Elsa Ravekes being the lecturer that presented the winning program.

Vic Reynolds Wins Magazine Award

Vic Reynolds has done it again! That is, he has had his sixth recipe printed in the Sunset magazine's "Chef's of the West" men's cooking department. The recipe is in the December issue of Sunset, and is for "Fig Pudding", which he and Mrs. Reynolds prefer to the regular plum pudding.

Mr. Reynolds had a choice of many prizes, and has chosen a book "Introduction of Western Birds", which should prove of great interest to him.

Letter to the Editor TO THE EDITOR:

According to the tabulation of the November 6 voting, Curry county voters paid me a high compliment in the majority which was given me. My very able opponent bested me in the state-wide vote, particularly as he cut my expected vote in the Portland area. But, this does not diminish my appreciation of my Curry county majorities, and the voluntary work of many people which this vote indicates.

In January I shall return to the State Senate where I hope to sup-
