Welcome Wagon NEWS

Welcome Wagon Service, although new to this community, has been in existence for nearly thirty years. At the moment, Welcome Wagon represents local merchants and industrial firms in over 1500 communities ranging in size from New York to towns much smaller than Brookings.

Welcome Wagon has built a rock-solid foundation over the years as one of the most highly commendable community service organizations in the country along with its unique personal advertising program. It works with churches, civic and social groups and although one of its principle motivations is to lend a helping hand that isn't by any stretch of the imagination, its only purpose.

Founded in 1928, the Welcome Wagon company originally planned to concentrate solely on extending a helping hand to newcomers, to ease that inevitable "lost" feeling accompanying a family move to a new environment. Armed with full knowledge of community habits, services and activities the hostess would familiarize the new family with "their town" and present them with greetings from the local merchants.

However, the idea proved so popular that the initial service of welcoming newcomers has been expanded until it now touches on almost every important phase of American life. Calls are made on mothers of new babies, teen-age girls on their 16th birthday, newly-engaged girls, 25th and 50th wedding anniversaries, to name just a few of the occasions marked by visits today. Contents of the gift baskets depend on which local merchants participate and to whom they go, and carry an assortment of items from local business concerns, free of course to the family, which in turn is supposed to remember the gift-givers when it comes to choosing the local concerns they'll patronize.

CARD OF THANKS

the prisoner. The many friends of Mrs. Edna Weigel will be glad to hear that she is able to be up now, and by taking it easy, will probably be able to start doing a little housework in another week. She wants everyone to know how much she appreciated the flowers, plants get well cards she has received. She is now able to have company, and will enjoy having her friends visiting her.
