Union Oil Company Changes Ad Plans

Union Oil Company of California, one of the nation's largest advertisers, has cancelled all billboard advertising and will increase substantially its newspaper campaigns in both dailies and selected weeklies, according to Reese H. Taylor, chairman of the board. Among the weekly newspapers selected to carry Union Oil's advertising in 1957 is the Brookings-Harbor Pilot.
 "Two factors were of primary concern to Union Oil in reaching the decision to abandon billboard advertising," explained Mr. Taylor. "First is the traffic hazard which a great many experts have indicated billboards tend to increase. Second is an apparent and growing resentment on the part of many people and residential communities to obscuring the beauty of our natural landscape with this type of advertising."
 "As a company serving the motoring needs of the general public, it simply did not make good sense for Union Oil to continue to use an advertising medium which is apparently becoming offensive to many of our customers and prospects and which, in the opinion of some experts, represents a hazard to them.

 "Therefore we cancelled all billboard advertising. The money we have been spending annually for this type of outdoor advertising will now be used to increase our newspaper advertising campaigns. In another unprecedented policy move, Mr. Taylor revealed Union Oil's plans for 1957 include use of an impressive list of over 400 selected weekly newspapers in the seven western states.
 "We are initiating this test campaign in the weeklies because we believe such newspapers in the west are thoroughly read and are an effective medium to reach a large portion of the motoring public.
 "Weeklies will be used to supplement our company's advertising in those areas where Union Oil has service stations or marketing outlets and which are not covered by daily newspapers.
 "Use of weekly newspapers is as marked a change in Union's advertising policy as is the decision to abandon billboards. We are confident such changes in policy will prove effective."
