4-H Groups Meet At Upper Chetco
Members of the Gold Beach 4-H Rocks and Minerals club, Archery club, and Gun club, spoke at the organizational meeting of the Upper Chetco 4-H Community club held at the Upper Chetco grade school Friday evening, February 8, according to Mrs. Bertha Sharp, 4-H club leader.

Tommy Ganong talked to the group about the archery club, telling them how their club was organized and what the activities were. Cleve Berry, Harbor, will lead an archery club in the Chetco area for the coming year. Galin Jordon is the leader in the Gold Beach area.

A demonstration of the various kinds of volcanic rock was given by Tommy Byers and Joy Sharp. Joanne Hallerman and Carol Howard demonstrated how to identify different rocks and minerals found in Curry county and other parts of the state. Margaret Shield and Jacky Jordon gave a gun demonstration to the group. A gun was disassembled and assembled to show the proper method and the safety precautions necessary when handling a gun.

A forestry exhibit and a gun exhibit was arranged by Charles Lyons, Loren McNair and Charles Briggs. An exhibit of rocks, minerals and agates was also on display during the meeting.

Harbor News
Mr. and Mrs. Vic Reynolds are having owl trouble again at their VE ranch up the south bank of the Chetco River. They were wakened about 4:30 Monday morning by their dog, at barking and wanting out of the house. She kept on barking out near the chicken house and when Vic and Elsie went out to see what was wrong they saw a big horned owl roosted near the chicken pen. Vic shot the owl, which had a wing spread of nearly six feet. About a year ago the Reynolds lost several nice fat hens to owls before trapping one on the top of a post and shooting it. A note of interest is that Pat is one of the daughter of Lassie, the movie dog star, which was given the Reynolds a few years ago.

After reporting that the dafodil season was real late, the warm weather and rain brought on the first buds in a rush so that the growers are hardly able to keep the fields picked before they are ready for another picking. Of course with the quantity of blooms hitting the market at once, the price of the blooms has gone down.

Mrs. Ruth Bathiany returned home Friday after a vacation away from here for about two months. She spent the holidays in Tulelake at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford. Then she went to Pleasant Hills, California, where she was a houseguest at the home of Mrs. Lee Devol while visiting around in the central California area.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wood of Ocean Lake, but former well known local residents, spent the first part of the week as guests at the E. E. Hanscam Sr. home, and attended to business matters.

Mrs. Sonny Chapman, Mrs. Donald Payne and Mrs. Steve Cate spent Monday in Grants Pass on business and visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Reiling, the sister of Mrs. Chapman and cousin of the other two women.

Raymond Reekman returned home Sunday from Portland where he had spent a month attending the Maytag and Frigidaire Appliance schools under the sponsorship of Hanscam's Center where he has been employed.
