

Letter To The Editor

Editors note: This letter was received from Mrs. Ruth Cucksee and daughters. Printed in its entirety it will give readers an idea of what Martha Grayshel, and her Welcome Wagon service is.

I wish to take this means of again thanking the business people in Brookings who are sponsors of Welcome Wagon, and I think Martha Grayshel is a wonderful hostess. The information that I received from her about the town and various civic programs was very helpful to a newcomer.

Mrs. Grayshel called on me with a gaily decorated basket of gifts and information from the merchants, and along with each gift came an invitation in the form of a card to become acquainted with the store owners themselves.

Amber Campbell of the House of Shoes sent a cut pink coin purse shaped like a shoe and when I called to make her acquaintance she presented me with an additional gift of jewelry.

Mr. and Mrs. Strong of Brookings Studio took six poses of me for a 4x6 portrait. They all turned out well for me, as I am not very photogenic.

The Par Store sent a useful gift of a mesh dishcloth and a tide book and when I called on Bud and Laurel Phetteplace at their hardware store to learn how to read the book I received a hamburger press and stayed long enough to watch a TV program.

At Demmick Bros. Market, I was presented with a colorful sponge rubber brush and was greeted by Bob and Les. Their introduction through the Welcome Wagon basket was an open faced plastic coin purse carrying a clever slogan "Keep your small change here, spend the rest with us."

Hendricks Furniture sent a metal yardstick which Mrs. Grayshel had rolled into a ring and tied with a ribbon to conveniently fit into the basket. Mr. and Mrs. Hendricks were out of town when I called at their store but they had left a Dapper Dan ash tray man to be presented to me by Harold Young who was in charge.

Karl and Louise Ostenburg from Ostenberg's Floor Coverings sent a red plastic spoonholder in the basket and presented me with a gift of floor wax when I visited them.

Mr. Hyatt of Frank's Pharmacy had an emery board attached to his invitation card and presented me with an additional supply when I made his acquaintance.

Seaview Dairy, locally owned and operated by Earl Breuer and Rod Herman, sent a clever weather indicator thermometer as their introduction. Their card states that a quart of milk will be delivered to me.

Cur-Del Cleaners have offered a free cleaning job on a pair of slacks, sweater or skirt. The owners, so I learned, are Harry Woodall and Lloyd White. Mrs. White helps out at the counter when Mr. White is making deliveries. Mr. Woodall is an expert in all phases of the cleaning business as he has been in this line of work for twenty-one years.

My three daughters were delighted with the salt water taffy from Ben and Evelyn's, who carry a line of the best candies at their Dairy Cream restaurant and we were presented with an additional generous trial assortment when we stopped in to meet them.

The Brookings-Harbor Pilot, Bud Pisarek and Joe Murphy, editors and publishers donated a three month's subscription to the newspaper which we are looking forward to receiving.

From Azalea Lanes, Glen and Cleo Rogers, presented us with three complimentary games with free instructions which we shall be delighted to take advantage of as my eldest daughter is a bowling enthusiast.

Charles Grayshel of Grayshel's Insurance Agency sent a gift of a plastic rain bonnet in a purse size case and an invitation to visit his office and secure a desk calendar pad.

The gift from Palmer's Department Store, owned by June and Murray Palmer was a pair of earrings and I enjoyed meeting Mrs. Palmer and being taken on a tour of their store.

Although I didn't make any purchase of any consequence at the time I visited all of these stores, it was a most enjoyable experience to meet the fine people who make the Welcome Wagon available to Brookings.
