Models, Music at Satellite Style Show

Parade of Nations 10th annual Fashion Show was presented by the Satellite Social Club on March 29th at 8 p.m.

If you entered the auditorium shortly before 8 p.m. you were sure you were going to enjoy the show. The reason, you were hearing the kind of music you love most.

At approximately eight o'clock when the curtains parted you see the most beautiful stage decorations. Then you were sure if there was no more to the show other than the music and the lovely stage it was well worth your time. But, wait, that was only the beginning.

Next out steps the Master of Ceremonies in his smart hand tailored suit (Frenchie Arrell) and he spoke, and the show was under way.

The audience led by Clarence Dial sang The Star Spangled Banner and our friend Clarence did a good job of leading. Then came the allegiance to the flag ceremony performed by the cub, boy and girl scouts.

The next treat was Russell Jenkins at the Organ with Miss Janet Mosier at the piano playing Ebb Tide and as well played that the presence of the surf and sea gulls seemed near, Miss Janet Mosier, with the assistance of Russell Jenkin added to the enjoyment of those who attended. The Baldwin Organo-sonic responded to the touch of Miss Janet with tones pleasing to the ear.

Next was the showing of the first fashions and these were by Tots to Teens and narrated by Mrs. Geaney (owner of Tots to Teens). She impressed the audience with her speaking voice, her charm and her knowledge of her merchandise and her ability to handle the models, which was a good sized job when you take into consideration the youngest of these was one year old.

Models for Tots to Teens were: Linda Bordwell, Jerilyn Longacre, Margaret Hopper, Randy Rettke, Barry Hanscam, Diane Johnson, Tommy Kerr, Gary Hyatt, Jody Dimmick, Terry Hancam, Richard Kerr, Starla Coats, Susan Potocnick, David Rettke, Julie Kemp, Merlene Hanscam and Mark Gransee.

Then up came the models with authentic Chinese costumes worn by Ida Blanchard, Ellen Knight and Juneve Rausch. To draw our attention to the characteristics of this costume was Mistress of Ceremonies, Priscella Robinson, and as usual she did an outstanding job on all costumes of other nations that were presented throughout the program.

Now comes Palmers with their and spring wear and as in past Fashion Shows June Palmer proves that she can do things other than the menial tasks assigned by her husband.

The models were Connie Kessler, Ross Kessler, Charline Sabin, Janet Pyne, Buelah Johnson, Connie McKenzie, Glenda Keffer, Mary Ann Olson, Donna Nonamer, Doris Shuey, Christine Woods, Janet Glass, Verna Rae Arnett, Pat Dent, Sharon McClain, Grace Yelton, Susie Martin, Phyllis Chadbourne, Phyllis Cole and Kathy Olson.

The Rock and Roll tap dance by Glenda Keffer, Kathy Olson and Mary Ann Olson for Palmers had the appearance of professionals. At about this time in the program the Baldheaded Row set up and noted that Palmers were showing bathing suits.

If you like good piano music you would have loved the piano solo played by Russell Jenkins at this point in the program.

Then came the Russian costume modeled by Betty Gorte and Priscilla commented that the costume was pre-Communism.

This was followed by the shoe salesman, Gene Gould. Here is a young man that is not taking full advantage of his ability.

Next Malayan costumes modeled by Ann White and Carol Rausch and narrated by Priscilla.

Then models Pam Kerr, Ann Motot, Sandy Whillock and Judy Phetteplace for Eva-Lee. Here you saw hi-fashions at their best.

Oh, now comes the spell binder of the evening. Ruth Smith played Czardas on the violin accompanied by Clarence Dial on the piano.

Mary Jane Brimm modeled a Phillippine costume—again Priscilla explained the characteristics of the costume.

Again Frenchie took a whirl at narrating for Youngs and models Betty Young, Pearl Young, Harriet Baker, Lorene Holmes and daughter. Much to our surprise we find that women can take yardage, a pattern and some thread and create very attractive garments.

Then we had Sara Jane Ellison to show us a Norwegian costume again narrated by Priscilla.

Mode O'Day let us have a look at the lovely models and the dresses the models wore. The models were Betty Gorte, Phyllis Cole, Melody Sage, Judy Coats, Nancy Cummings, Jeanette Pierce, Ethel Twohy, Ruth Murphy, Pat Hellig and Sylvia Gates. The new owners, Dee White and Margaret Breuer, narrated. They got off to a flying start by their showing of styles and ability to comtemate.

The Arabian costumes worn by Emil and Anne Scarbo were most unusual and interesting. Also unusual and interesting was the India Sari worn by Melody Sage. Pamela Hanscam was darling in her Japanese costume to set off the cherry blossoms in the stage setting.

Mrs. Sylvia Knox was the lucky winner of the door prize which was a beautiful mirror for a door.

MRS. TYGART HOME

Mrs. Frank Tygart is mighty glad to get back home. She and her sister were just lucky enough to be visiting in the blizzard area of Texas, Oklahoma and Missouri during the time when they had what they explain to have been "unusual weather".

Thanks to the Merchants and general public for your response to our change of ownership opening at MODE O' DAY
