

FIVE WALK FROM GP

Dr. W. H. Townsend ran into five fishermen-hikers Tuesday up the Chetco River. The odd part of it was that the men were from Grants Pass--and had hiked over the mountains.

Dr. Townsend, Smith River, was up near the Upper Summer bridge when he saw the men, and gave them a ride to Brookings, where they were going to call up somebody in Grants Pass to come and get them.

Dr. Townsend said that the men claimed they weren't lost, although they were running very low on food, and were eating mainly fish for the last few days.

The men said they had been out for five days and had walked about 40 miles.

ERSKINE MILLER FEATURED IN RURALITE SHEET

A full page feature on Erskine Miller was presented in the current issue of the Ruralite magazine.

The article told about the hobby of the Brookings man who was a former Chicago accountant.

His hobby is writing letters to people all over the world.

He has correspondence from such spots as Czechoslovakia, Turkey, Africa, India, and many other places.

Mr. and Mrs. David Ayer, and baby, 9 months, from Minneapolis has been at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Ayers for a few days.

STROMMEN VISITS

Merton T. Strommen, of Arcadia, California visited this week at the home of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Newton Strommen of Harbor.

Mr. Strommen is a lipstick manufacturer, and brought a trial case to Brookings a Dimmicks Market to sell.

He is in the perfume stick and flavored lipstick business, and has a new lip-shaped case on the market.

There will be a baptism service Sunday evening at 8 p.m. in the Baptist Community church.

Miss Celia Kerns and brother Tim, are visiting their grandmother, Mrs. Clara Kerns for several days. They are from Klamath Falls.

Mrs. Ralph Reed and mother, Mrs. Roat, returned Sunday from a weekend trip to the Veterans hospital in Vancouver, Wn. where they spent some time with Ralph (Pop) Reed there. He expects to return home in August. They also visited with relatives in Albany, Ore.

May 6 is opening her piano for summer classes.

Mrs. Hysom established an enviable reputation, not only in Anchorage, but in the territory of Alaska and had students from surrounding towns, some coming from a distance of fifty miles some having to travel by train.

She has done considerable work in coaching of other teachers and was the only teacher in Anchorage whose students received scholarships for five consecutive years. Mrs. Hysom will consider conducting classes this fall in harmony and music appreciation, a branch of instruction which proved highly popular and successful in Anchorage, if enough interest is voiced to warrant such classes.

For further information persons can call Mrs. Hysom at her home.
