LOCAL GOLFER RUNS INTO MINIATURE BEN HOGAN

A group of local golfing hot shots traveled to Eureka for a match game with a group of Eureka golfers, and came back with their heads hung slightly more than normal.

Here is the story as it was told to the Pilot by an "unimpeachable source".

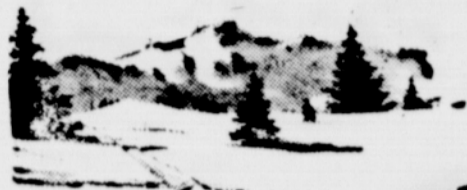

One match on the Eureka links pitted Charlie Grayshel, local real estate broker, and Paul Brunk against two Eureka "men". A real sad round was played, against the home twosome. One of the opposition was the son of the Eureka course pro, and was only EIGHT YEARS old.

He shot an unbelievable 81 to beat Grayshel. However, the boy was really smacking the ball, and beat most of the players on the field.

Obviously that boy is going places in the golf world. However this department wouldn't advise him to come to Brookings to buy a house about now.
