ATTENDS SCHOOL

Paul Fauerso of the Fauerso-Lesmeister Insurance Agency recently returned from Seattle, Washington, where he attended the 12th Annual General-Fire-Casualty-Surety School sponsored by General Insurance Company of America. The six week school is nationally recognized as one of the most comprehensive in the insurance industry and is designed to keep agents abreast of modern protection plans for homes and businesses.

While at the School Fauerso received instruction from more than forty insurance experts who presented the salient features of agency management, as well as the technical aspects of fire, casualty, auto and life. He lived at the University of Washington fraternity house where most of the hours spent on the campus were devoted to concentrated study. Homework assignments took as much as four hours each evening and six hour examinations were given each Saturday.

However, it was not all work and no play. A day's trip to spectacular Mt. Rainier and a tour of the Puget Sound, followed by a memorable salmon barbecue of Vashon Island were the highlights of sightseeing itinerary.

Graduation exercises were held in the General Insurance Building with Fauerso receiving his diploma from Mr. W. L. Campbell, President of the General America Corporation.
