LETTER TO THE EDITOR...

TO THE EDITORS:

A small group of parents were more than slightly chagrined at its lack of size Thursday night at the first P. T. A. meeting of the current school year.

After the regular business session Mr. Gene Allison introduced the faculty members who were seated in the audience. As each member was introduced he or she walked to a table behind the officers. When Mr. Allison had completed the introductions 45 faculty members stood behind the table. There remained seated in the audience, after faculty families were introduced, few, if any, more people than were standing.

In a community where the school situation is so critical and opinion regarding same so high, it seems rather odd that more of the parents of the 1080 vitally concerned pupils do not take a more active part in school functions.

The handful of parents who attended Thursday were pleased to be "set straight" on rumors concerning futher school developments. This same handful attempted to welcome the faculty, new and returning members, on behalf of all the parents of the school youngsters.

Come on parents, let's get behind our schools and teachers. Let's show them that we can do more than just complain about conditions. On the first Thursday of next month (and every school month), the high school gym should have a parent present for each of those 1080 kids!

Sincerely,
Mrs. Hap Lewis

FIRST BOY

George William Beck Jr. who was born on August 11, weighing five pounds, two ounces, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Beck of Harbor, is the first boy born in the entire Beck kinship. Dr. David Brown delivered the baby at Seaside hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thom and daughters, Cindy and Candy, visited relatives in Columbus, Ohio; Wisconsin, Minnesota and Montana, on their recent 8000 mile trip back east.
