FIGHT AGAINST SELFISHNESS

By REV. L. C. FERGUSON, South Bend, Ind., (Episcopal).

The fundamental struggle in all life is the struggle to overcome ourselves and the worst that is in us. The worst things in life are only the best gone bad. This can be illustrated by showing how easily generosity can deteriorate into prodigality, thrift into miserliness, prudence into timidity, or courage into foolhardiness. Even love, which is the most wonderful thing that there is in life, becomes, when corrupted, the lowest. Selfishness is one of the worst sins of the Christian world. Selfishness is a corruption of self-respect. We should have a great regard for ourselves, of course; but as soon as a baby reaches the age of three or four years, and begins to talk about "I," the corruption of a great and wonderful virtue commences. The Christian struggle against selfishness begins at the crib.
