

The NEIGHBORHOOD

OLD GRAND RONDE

By M. PETERSEN, Sr.

Clementine Jeffries of Cloverleaf school district is having a house built by her brother Narcis LaChance.

Mrs. Mary Kenworthy has a daughter who is now taller than her mother.

Polk-Yamhill street is gradually being built up with houses—as was predicted by M. Petersen more than twenty years ago.

F. P. Kowley has moved into the W. S. Lauthers farm house which he has leased, together with one acre of garden land, part of which is to be set with strawberries. Chet Loup of Amity, spent last Sunday with the Rowleys. The men were formerly partners in caring for J. D. Welch's stock farm.

Fred Knispel, who lives at the Paul Vandehey home, is employed on the new parsonage being built by Rev. Sheffield of St. Michael's Mission. The concrete foundations are set and a well has been sunk 16 feet. Washed gravel from Mill Creek was used.

Narcis and Edwin LaChance have a contract for tearing down the old Grand Ronde hotel building as it has become dilapidated and an eyesore. It was one of the first buildings in Old Grand Ronde and has an interesting history, formerly it was used as a dormitory for Indian boys; and for more than 20 years it was occupied by M. Petersen where he kept postoffice and operated a dance hall and stage. There the Grand Ronde Indian band was organized; there the first Christmas celebration was held by the Indians, all joining hands and dancing around the Christmas tree while Alvina Petersen LaChance played the Christmas march on the piano; it was the scene of the wedding of Olga Petersen to Roy Buckley; and where the 50th anniversary of St. Michael's Mission church, founded by Father Crockett, was held, when Archbishop Christy gave the blessing and all the people dined at the old hotel.

Thomas L. Bockes, county commissioners for Yamhill county, and Mrs. Bockes made a pleasant call at the Petersen home last Saturday morning. Mr. Bockes has been busy taking care of the graveling of roads in this vicinity, with gravel from the newly placed rock crusher at the Melvin Wilson quarry. The work is surely appreciated by all the people here.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Hirst, former occupants of the Lauthers' place are now living in McMinnville.

Alfred Miller and Forest Fisher recently visited their Uncle Otto at Scappoose.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Madison, W. S. Lauthers and F. Rowley were Sunday dinner guests at the M. Petersen home.

H. E. Goodrich and A. C. Oppen of Salem called on M. Petersen Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Paulen and three children arrived Sunday from Creede, Colorado, and will locate here permanently. At present they are staying with Mrs. Paulen's sister, Mrs. H. E. Cody and family.

ST. MICHAEL'S CHURCH

Old Grand Ronde

Regular services Sundays at 10:00 a. m., except first Sunday in month when services are held at 8:15 and 10:30 a. m.

Rev. G. F. Sheffield, Pastor.

Ladies of Old Grand Ronde gave a stork shower at the community hall, honoring Mrs. Dorothy Mercer Forester of Sweet Home. A delicious luncheon was served and a most pleasant afternoon was spent. The honor guest received many dainty and useful articles. Among those present were Mrs. Mary Joy, Rose Larsen, Martha Mercier, Mrs. Ila Dowd, Marian Forester, Callie Smith, Mary Kenworthy and daughter, Nadine Mercier, Gertrude Mercier, Lizzie Bannach, Etta Enebit, Mrs. Linden, Agnes Mercier, Hattie Leno and Isabel Matousha.

Three boys and four girls were confirmed at the service held at St. Michael's church on Sunday, and Rev. Sheffield may well be proud of the success of the event. Dinner was served to fifteen people, the archbishop, clergy, singers and friends, at the community hall. Mrs. Celia Smith and Martha Mercier waited on table, while Gertrude Mercier, Mary Kenworthy, Rose Larsen and Stella LaChance were cooks and helpers.

MOUNTAIN HOME

By MRS. JYA CLARK

(Too late for last week)

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Conkey and son Carol were McMinnville visitors Saturday. Mrs. Conkey and Carol went to Hillsboro Saturday afternoon, where they visited relatives and Mrs. Conkey attended the teachers' institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Thompson's daughter and son-in-law of Portland were in the community Sunday.

Frank Sutter is building himself a barn.

Kenneth Hintzman spent the week end at Green Acres, near Dayton, with his father.

Lester Alderman of Portland is visiting this week at the home of his uncle, Jay Clark.

A special school meeting will be held Wednesday, the 29th, for the purpose of electing a director to take the place of Tom Bayer who has moved to New Town.

Evergreen picking closes this week. Mr. McGee has been buying them for Mr. Robinson of Bay City.

Deer hunters in our community are getting fewer and fewer. Very few of them have been successful.

Mrs. E. L. Pierce is visiting in Portland this week.

Geo. Freeman's mill has been sold to a Mr. Carter of Newberg. The mill was located on the Henry Blair place.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Schaefer have moved to their new home. We hope they will enjoy being in our neighborhood. Welcome, neighbors.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Mace of Portland called at the Elmer Schaefer home Sunday.
