

M. PETERSEN ADVISES PORTLAND FRIEND ON PHYSICAL CONDITION

A friend of mine of Portland complained to me. He said, "Petersen, I am getting old, although I am only 55 years old." He looked flabby, sure. I told him, "George, you will have to stop drinking. The way you look you are putting on too much weight." I said to him, "When you get up in the morning, get down on the floor and roll over half a dozen times, then get up, stamp your feet, bend over, bend over and touch your toes half a dozen times, then take a hot bath following with cold water rubbing, all before breakfast, so he d d. Next time I saw him. I says, "George, you surely look good."

He says, "I feel better following your advice."

Talmer Lens had visitors, so did W. S. Lauthers have company.

Melvin Wilson went to Taft Sunday.

W. A. Osborn of Newberg called Sunday. He wanted a home to raise minks. Mr. Osborn was born at Grand Ronde. His stepfather, Mr. Stem, lives at Newberg. They are both working for the WPA.

Melvin Wilson went to stay with his mother in her cabin at Taft. Rett Parvell of the Standard Oil Co. from McMinnville was inspecting rest rooms of James and Lambert at New Grand Ronde.

Wild blackberries are one dollar per gallon.

Westly Reiback of Portland is visiting his aunt, Mrs. Clara Riggs. He is a cousin of Orin White. He loves this beautiful country. His mother was Adeline Robinson before she married Mr. Reiback.

The confederated Indian tribe of Grand Ronde has elected at their business council two new members, Abe Hudson and Julius Mercer, none being terminated, an election was held to elect new members. Edgar Simmons was elected chairman and Arin White vice-chairman for the Grand Ronde business committee of Indian bureau.

Joe Dolp family had a surprise visit Sunday of his daughters and grandchildren of Portland and Marshfield.

Ralph Uglow's new house had a hardwood floor laid by a Portland firm of which Melvin Wilson is a stockholder.

M. Petersen counted 16 apples on a limb 18 inches long in his garden.

An animal is born with all of the wisdom necessary for its life.

Mrs. Laura Potter, her nephew, H. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. F. Moe and daughter called on Petersen for him to show them the land Mr. Potter bought from the county. Had a fine lunch at Camp Pleasant. They are of Silverton. Mr. Potter is a candidate for county commissioner of Lane county.

George Daffield's baby boy died at Woodburn; about three months old former resident of Grand Ronde. Chas. Johnson was a beloved friend of all the people of Grand Ronde. He has one son who lives at Newberg. After he lost his wife he lost all hope of living.

Harry Kershaw visited M. Petersen Friday. He has lost quite a lot of his corpuscles, due to a sick spell.

Fred Yocom, Petersen and her daughter, Barbara, are on the sick list at Baker, Ore. Her father, Ira Yocom of Willamina went through a sick spell recently.

T. L. Bockes, our county commissioner called on M. Petersen to talk about better roads.

Frank Cample suffered a stroke and is very much improved.

July 14 nearly 100 in the shade. Millions of night bugs, some as small as pin heads, were swarming, giving a person no rest to sleep.

L. M. Petersen had gone to Willamina and home again. He is going to paint Melvin Wilson's barn.

The berry pickers did not go back to Gresham. They could not make salt, the berries were so small.

Monday, the 11th, Mr. Max Madison was taken home from the mill at the New Grand Ronde lumber company on account of feeling sick.

L. M. Petersen left home the 13th for places unknown to us.

Oregon road codes make it plain that all territorial roads, the roads from Midway to Boyer is a county road. Old David Leno did lots of work on that road. It is the original Salmon River road. Productive farms can be made on this road on both sides for nearly four miles. Not a soul lives there yet. Pheasant Creek is on that road. This road was laid out by Philip Sheridan in 1856.

Our neighbor, Gustafson, with M. Petersen are circulating a petition to the government to give the county road and of the old Indian road which was laid out for the Indian when the Grand Ronde Indian reservation was planned.

Our Oregonian man, Mr. Ritner of Sheridan, is making his rounds again.

Man thinks, but God leads the way. July 13 and 14 it was close to a hundred degrees.

Our old neighbor, Chas. Johnson, died at Salem hospital the 13th. He was buried on the 15th at McMinnville.

Mrs. Marjorie LaChance, Miss Virginia Macy and Mrs. Edwina Winslow all had a lunch at Petersen's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Holman called with Mrs. Nelson and daughter, who wants to buy a few acres with house and barn. They live at Ballston. Too bad, nobody building houses and subdivides, there being many acres for fruit and berries.

The Pruitt brothers, James and Schryners want to buy hay and rent a small farm.

Virginia Macy, a friend of the LaChance family, is visiting with Edwina Winslow.

Melvin Wilson took L. M. Petersen to Oak Grove to paint a house for him Sunday. It will take from three to four days. Melvin went to Puyallup to attend the funeral of his father-in-law, A. J. Linn.

A. J. Linn of Puyallup, Wash., died Sunday, July 17th, at Puyallup. Present at his death bed were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wilson of Grand Ronde, Mr. and Mrs. Whitmore of Puyallup, Mr. and Mrs. Kesselman of Tacoma, who are his three daughters, also leaves one son. Mr. Linn is of pioneer stock, a member of the Linn clan from Estacada. About 150 living members remain. He died from hardening of the arteries. He was a highly respected and beloved man by all who knew him. His wife died about four years ago.

Lindsey Menard was taken home to his sister, Mrs. Thomas Beam. He had been in the hospital about 10 months.
