Henry Wallace in Chungking

Vice President Henry A. Wallace is shown being welcomed to China by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, when Wallace's plane landed there. The vice president not only carried state papers, but was well equipped with seeds, industrial plans, various items which had been asked for by welfare organizations operating in China. Before leaving the United States Wallace had "mastered" the Chinese language.

"Flak", a black cocker spaniel, is pictured in his Denver home with his new mistress, Mrs. Jesse Bell, after his plane trip from England, which was authorized by General Arnold, chief of the air forces. Flak was the pet of Mrs. Bell's son, Sgt. Robert K. Bell, 23, who was killed when his bomber crashed in England.

ON THE HOME FRONT

with RUTH WYETH SPEARS

WHY not make a week-end project of putting together a couple of comfortable chairs with the special features shown here? You don't have to have a fancy workshop. The whole job may be done out in the yard or on the porch. Just three stock widths of lumber are needed; all the cuts are straight and the pieces may be nailed or screwed together. But the really important thing about this chair is that it is comfortable to sit in and good to look at. The removable back makes it easy to move around and to store for the winter. Even though it is made with all straight cuts of the saw, it is so designed that it has no awkward angles and no jack knife posture is necessary when sitting in it.

NOTE—Mrs. Spears has prepared a large sheet with working diagrams; complete list of materials; dimensions and step-by-step directions for cutting and assembling this chair. Ask for Design 269 and enclose 15 cents. Address:

Camouflage Ages Ago

It is generally believed that camouflage developed during the 1914-18 war. Armies then used all sorts of devices to make themselves invisible, and vessels were painted in "dazzle" style. In the beginning, however, many uniforms were splendidly colorful. The French infantry wore red pantaloons.

Our own uniforms, from earlier experiences in India and South Africa, were already the dull but useful khaki, which blends into the ground colors so well. First to use camouflage was the ancient Egyptian king, Rameses III. He made his soldiers paint their shields and tunics with tiger stripes, to confound and terrify the enemy.

Teacher—Willie, how much does a 12-pound shot weigh?
Willie (after deep thought)—I don't believe I know.
Teacher—Well what time does the 10 o'clock train leave?
Willie—At 10 o'clock.
Teacher—Then how much does a 12-pound shot weigh?
Willie (brightening)—Ten pounds, ma'am.

Foster D. Snell, Inc., well-known consulting chemists, have just completed a test with a group of men and women suffering from Athlete's Foot. These people were told to use Soretone. At the end of only a ten-day test period, their feet were examined by a physician. We quote from the report:

Improvements were shown in the symptoms of Athlete's Foot—the itching, burning, redness, etc. The report says:

"In our opinion Soretone is of very definite benefit in the treatment of this disease, which is commonly known as 'Athlete's Foot'."
