

Couple wed in candlelight ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony, Sue Vandeventer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Vandeventer Jr. became the bride of Patrick McAuliffe in the Vernonia Bible Church Saturday, December 18.

The 7 p.m. service was performed by Rev. D.J. Dickey with approximately 200 guests witnessing the couple exchange vows.

Two pink-flocked Christmas trees trimmed with sparkling twinkling lights and the flickering lights of candles on the platform and in candelabras decorated the church. Fir and holly accented the platform where the rites were held while red candles and fir boughs added to the windows. The pews were trimmed with pink bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown with a lace bodice accented by pearls. There was a matching lace ruffle on the train, and lace and pearl appliques on the skirt. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias, pink roses, and lily-of-the-valley.

Matron of honor was Pam Vandeventer, the bride's sister-in-law from Beaverton. She wore a burgandy velvet jumper with a sheer pink floral blouse and carried an open wicker basket filled with pink and burgandy mums and fir boughs.

Cindy Reinhart, Portland; and Connie Ballif, Beaverton, were bridesmaids. They were attired in ensembles that matched that of the matron of honor.

Best man was James McAuliffe, Tampa, the groom's brother. Ushers were Herb Rempel, Lorrach, Germany, and Wayne Quiring, Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Stephanie Dickey, Vernonia, was flowergirl, and Steven Zerfing, Portland, was ringbearer.

The bride's brother, Bill Vandeventer, and her cousin, Dan Organ, served as usher and canelighers.

The wedding service was highlighted by a harp prelude, a surprise for the bride from the groom. Soloists were Claude Vandeventer III, the bride's brother, and James McAuliffe, the groom's brother.

A reception was held following the wedding rites, at the church. A four-tier cake and punch was served.

Later that evening the couple left on a wedding trip to the Oregon coast, returning to their new home in Aloha Christmas day.

The bride, a librarian's aide, attended Capernwray Bible, in England and Bryan College in Tennessee. She is employed by Washington Grade School.

The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McAuliffe also attended Capernwray Bible and is currently at Portland State. He is employed as a dockman by Silver Eagle Freight lines.
