TAURUS

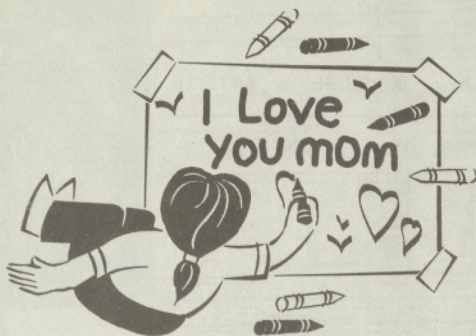

April 20-May 20, 1996

Being solid, steady and possessing a tranquility that often compares to the Rock of Gibraltar; you seldom make sudden moves. You do what you want, when you want. Not lazy, but rather, more deliberate and self-assured. Those who underestimate you, thinking you're slow rather than patient and sure, may find themselves at the business end of the Bull. You'll stand tall and broad, dig in your feet and stand your ground. You won't exert unnecessary energy charging about when you're quite happy being where you are. Does that make you stubborn or sensible and firm? Why not finally find out? Think of five people you truly respect and ask for their honest opinions.

At Work — Always sensible, dependable and secure, "work-related stress" is not a term that ever applies to you. You probably have one of the neatest of work areas. Your ability to refuse to let things get to you has some coworkers envious. Don't let too much build up inside. You wouldn't want to charge the wrong target.
