

Payroll, Class III Gaming Supplies Inventory, Off-track Betting and the Security Department.

A number of recommendations were made as a result of the review but no major non-compliance issues were identified.

Employment:

Chinook Winds was originally planned to have a workforce of 650 employees. Somehow, since the center opened on June 28th, the workforce ballooned to 804, 154 more than planned.

Since the peak summer months, ninety positions have been vacated due to attrition and 60 have been laid off, bringing the total workforce to the planned 654 level that Chinook Winds should maintain on an on-going basis.

The employment level is expected to be maintained by filling positions vacated by attrition and by cross training so employees in one category can fill-in in other areas as needed. An effort is being made to provide steady employment year round.

Winter Restaurant hours:

During the winter months, the fine dining room will be open for dinners only from 5 p.m. to 10:00 p.m. every evening.

The buffet will be open daily from 7 AM to 10 PM Mondays thru Thursdays and from 7 AM until midnight on Fridays and Saturdays.

Dear Tribal Members:

This letter is in response to a letter from Fred Ryan, Golden Gloves Committee. I did meet with Mr. Ryan and other Golden Gloves representatives. I felt that our meeting was very beneficial, and we agreed that golden Gloves tournament would be a good promotional event for the Chinook winds. At the conclusion of the meeting it was agreed that Mr. Ryan would provide the following:

1) References- For themselves and from other organizations that had supported them in past boxing events. This information is required for inclusion in the request for licensing a boxing event. Boxing event promoters require review and licensing from the Siletz Tribal Gaming Commission.

2) Complete Budget- Financially Chinook Winds must know the exact dollar amount being committed to the event. Chinook Winds has the responsibility to ask how much money is being requested and how it is going to be spent.

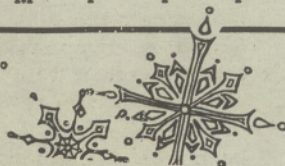

3) Available Room Nights- The event was scheduled during spring vacation when room night availability is limited and room rates are quite high. These concerns raised significant budget questions because of increased room cost and unavailability of rooms. Mr. Ryan was going to consider a date change or determine the budget consequences due to the increased room cost.

Mr. Ryan was asked to provide the aforementioned as quickly as possible so that the program could be put together on a timely basis.

I find it some what interesting that Mr. Ryan chose not to provide the necessary information but chose an editorial format with the Siletz news to stir emotion rather than discuss business issues in a professional manner. All who know me know that I would not act and treat people in the way Mr. Ryan described. I ask questions and require answers that will provide information to make the best business decision for Chinook Winds and The Confederated Tribes of Siletz Indians.
