

CHAPTER NEWS

tenant in the Navy Seabees has been selected as pin-up man by the WAVES at his station. We did not know that the WAVES had started a home for aged lady sailors.

W. C. (Dutch) Williams, former Division Engineer at La Grande, (we ignore the Portland Division's claim to Dutch as not being worth investigating) is stationed at the Granite City Engineer Depot, located on the shores of the Missouri river. We bet that Dutch has already made post war plans to stop the floods.

Walt Greene, the Oiling Crew Foreman, spread 18,000 gallons of oil on the road in one day. Seems to us that is a record. We wonder how he covered it all with rock. Perhaps he had the help of one of our special Eastern Oregon dust storms.

Chuck Hedrick, the Paving Foreman, says that if the shop installs many more gadgets on his outfit he is going to ask for a shop crew to come out and run it. All of Chuck's crew are members of the Association, which we think is something to brag about.

CHAPTER No. 8—ASTORIA

Working near Cannon Beach, Oiling Crew No. 1 has been active lately in this section and attended our June 14 meeting.

At our State Employees meeting at Astoria June 14, officers were nominated. There was a large attendance and several new members were taken in.

Taking time out from his new job in the U.S. Merchant Marine, Donald Hamilton, who used to be with the State Highway Department here, last week called upon his old associates.

NEWPORT CHAPTER No. 11

Gus Read, President of Chapter 11, Newport, has resigned.

Waldport Section has a new foreman, John Wells of Alsea. We figure in the driftwood flats that he will like it here amid the fog and moss because he is fond of fishing and digging clams.

The first edition of The Oregon State Employee was gratefully received by our members over here. We believe the publication will go a long way in promoting fellowship as well as membership. Heretofore we had no news as to what was going on in other Chapters and thus remained in our native "fog". General news from all over Oregon, we believe, will arouse greater interest.

We meet on the third Thursday of each month and welcome any other members to Newport on these occasions to help us in our future clam bakes.

KLAMATH FALLS CHAPTER No. 12

Klamath Falls Chapter No. 12 held its last regular meeting on May 17, 1944. About 30 members were present. Five new members were signed up at the meeting. A recess was held and Orrie Peugh with the help of Archie Roberts, put on a swell luncheon for the members. Leo Kerber, a member of Klamath Falls Chapter was present and gave his viewpoints on several matters.

Tom Edwards and Charley Clifton were unable to attend the special meeting of the General Council held at Salem May 28th, because of the shortage
