SOUTHERN GALLANTRY

(Saturday Review of Literature)

Dr. Hugh Hampton Young, eminent surgeon, attended the unveiling of a bust of himself at the University of Virginia. After the ceremony, a fluttery southern belle came up to him and remarked: "Doctah, Ah hope you appreciate that Ah've come 50 miles in a station wagon to see your bust unveiled." The gallant doctor replied: "Madame, I would gladly return the compliment."

The "Oregon State Employee" will be sent free to all former employees now in the service, provided the correct address is received. Letters from some of these in the service have been received, expressing their appreciation of our first issue. You can help make the Service News more interesting by sending in addresses, news, and excerpts from letters. Every member should be able to tell us something about at least one former employee now in the service. Mail news and addresses to Oregon State Employees' Association, 141 New Bligh Bldg., Salem.
