SALEM CHAPTER No. 1

During August and September 26 new members have been taken into the Salem Chapter. This gives us a total to date of 190 members, most of whom are paid up and in good standing.

Roy Boldt's oiling crew have finished their season's run and most of the regulars are either vacationing or have returned to their regular jobs. Harry Melton is next on the list to wind up his oiling.

Jerry Farrar, Chet Paulsen and a couple of other characters went to Astoria during the late lamented sport season for Columbia River salmon. It occurred to one of the boys, after a little quick figuring, that their possible catch would run into several hundred pounds. So they took a trailer (1-ton capacity) to bring all those fish home, and what do you think. No you almost guessed it, but the other characters did catch a fish apiece but boy did that trailer look empty. Chet and Jerry got a beautiful sunburn for their trouble.

It is with deep regret that we announce the recent deaths of two of our members—Stephen Ingham and L. M. Nickerson. The Chapter expresses its sympathy to the families of these two men.

I'm going hunting now—so long everybody!

(Editor's note: It is interesting to see how our correspondent from Salem failed to note the names of the other members of the above mentioned fishing trip. As a matter of fact our correspondent, Mr. Webb Ross, happened to be a member of the party and the trailer belonged to him.—Nuff said.)

ROSEBURG CHAPTER No. 2

Meetings are held regularly and all members are well pleased with the activities of the association in general.

Plans and nominations for candidates to fill the office of District Director are under way for the forthcoming election.

This chapter is considering a plan to hold its meetings alternately at the different headquarters of its members until the present gasoline rationing is over, as many of our members find it impossible to attend the meetings regularly. It is our hops that we will have a greater attendance, more activity and more news when the war is over.

BEND CHAPTER No. 3

Bend Chapter was honored at our August meeting by a host of out of town visitors, including A. J. Ford, State President; Forrest Stewart, Executive Secretary; I. A. DeFrance, Secretary-Treasurer; Herman Kherli, Executive Secretary of the League of Oregon Cities; Eddie Clymer, Editor of the Oregon State Employee and Public Relations Director; Floyd Query, Chair-
