

weary battle, the field emerged victor, but not without a bitter struggle. Ye scribe would guess that the liniment trade made a big sale the next day or so!

When the tumult and shouting at the ball game died down, races for the kiddies, baseball throwing for the ladies and other festivities common to all picnics, were carried on. The kids showed a lot of speed, considering the amount of food and ice cream they had consumed—and boy, why didn't some of those ladies sign up for the ball teams? Many employees also took full advantage of the swimming pool, and from the squeals and yells from that vicinity, must have had a wonderful time.

Along about 6 p.m., the weary but happy 300 commenced to climb aboard their chariots and head for home. All in all the picnic was a glorious success. Let's have more of them!

LA GRANDE CHAPTER No. 4

The La Grande Chapter held a Pot Luck Picnic on July 15th at Emigrant Springs State Park near Meacham. The Round-Up Chapter at Pendleton was invited to co-operate by bringing refreshments. They turned out in force with their baseball, horseshoe pitchers and mumble-peg teams.

All State Employees were invited whether or not they were members of the Association.

The committee in charge of arrangements were: J. K. Campbell (chairman), Joe Sellers, Noel Klitz, Charles Erbe, Ed Aronson, August Moser, Ed Chidsey and Glenn Tetrick.

The regular meeting of the Association was held at 8 p.m. on June 8, 1945. Raymond Hayes' name was drawn for the kitty, but he was not present so
