

"The Germans we meet on the street just move out of our way, and we don't pay any attention to them except I always keep my eye on the kids from 8 to 18. You never can tell what they might do. The country around here is very pretty and is intensely cultivated, but you don't see any men in the fields unless they are very young or very old.

"I haven't any idea when I'll get out. I have 99 points, but that doesn't mean much when you're an officer."

Word came from Mrs. Loomis in Eugene recently that Bob is on his way overseas.

Doug DeCew dropped in to say "hello" a short time ago. He was passing through on his way to Montana to visit the home folks. That was quite a reunion with Bill home too.

Bill DeCew came limping into the office recently. Was this his way of proving that he dislocated his knee when he took that unexpected jump in Germany: Anyway, he's almost as good as new again, and is enjoying a furlough at home in Klamath Falls. He hopes to be released in September. Well, we hope he is too.

Clive Courter couldn't pass up the opportunity to see the old gang when he was home a few days. He's sporting another stripe now, so here's our heartiest congratulations, Clive. He's a Staff Sgt. now.

Two of our fellows spent a few hours together when they were attending the same school at Fort Benjamin Harrison. Jim Jefferson came in a few weeks ago and reported seeing Clair Young there.

Too bad it couldn't have been a reunion here permanently instead of the way it was. Perhaps it won't be long now, though.

Fred Remington is reported as being home on leave. He says he'll be in to see everyone this week, so we'll be looking for him.

Civil service has been extended to the road commission employees of Wayne County, Michigan, along with a pay increase of ten cents per hour, a pension plan and classification readjustment.
