

Mr. Nash has his oiling crew here also, and is making progress, as the weather is fine for oiling.

This chapter is sorry to hear of the recent death of James Bedingfield's mother at Medford and extends to him our heartfelt sympathy.

PORTLAND CHAPTER No. 17

We are greatly indebted to Mr. French for the organization and success of Chapter 17. We appreciate his efforts very much.

At the beginning of the year, Mr. William Burns, from the Liquor Control Commission, was elected our new president and is very ably carrying on. If he develops as a president as well as he has a fisherman, Chapter 17 will surely be on the map. Mr. Burns went fishing for the first time, just out of Oregon City, and succeeded in snagging a 20 lb. salmon. This is one of those rare cases when the big one did not get away. He was greatly pleased, and from now on anyone wanting Mr. Burns can page him from the banks of the river. Kipling caught his first salmon trout from a rock (now called Kipling Rock) in the Clackamas river and wrote quite an article concerning his experience. Maybe Mr. Burns can tell us of the excitement and thrills occasioned by the landing of his salmon.

We have had two well attended meetings this year, and interest is developing in all that the association stands for.

It is gratifying to note that our good friend and association counsel, Leo Smith, has been named a member of the important "Special Committee on Civil Service" by the American Bar Association. The other six members of this committee are from Cincinnati, Ohio, New York, Washington, D.C., and Jackson, Miss. It is our feeling that Mr. Smith is entirely deserving of this national recognition.

Our Junior Past President, Allen A. French, has also been honored by being elected president of the National Association of Bedding and Upholstery law enforcement officials at a recent national meeting of that group in Chicago. Mr. French also succeeded in having the next conference of the national association held in Portland.

We are working for new members and hope to have every employee an active member of the Chapter.

MARION CHAPTER No. 18

Miss Viola Schrenk, secretary in the State Tax Commission, was married to Mr. Carl May on February 19, 1946. The marriage took place at the Bethel Baptist Church with Rev. Olthoff officiating. Mr. May was formerly in the Signal Corps of the U. S. Army and served overseas.
