CAPITOL CHAPTER No. 19

Chapter 19 decided to skip its April meeting and put its energy into a big May meeting at which it would act as host to the four chapters from the Public Utilities Commission, State Library, Industrial Accident Commission, and Department of Agriculture.

The main feature of such joint meeting will be to hear a discussion by the new State Civil Service Director, William G. Coleman, covering the principle problems confronting his department.

This meeting will be held at the Salem Women's Club Building, on May 16, at 8:00 P.M.

SIAC CHAPTER No. 20

In spite of the fine entertainment and refreshments at our March meeting there was a good deal of business taken care of also. Mr. White reported the accomplishments of the General Council meeting. Because of the length of the report, discussion was postponed until the next meeting. Mr. Stewart gave an account of the detours encountered relative to a general wage increase.

Recently the SIAC's have acquired a new meeting place, made available by the Mayflower Dairy Association. Now the chapter can prove its culinary talents. Over fifty members present at the last meeting can assure Ben Gifford that Beth Greenlee makes good coffee. The couple recently announced their engagement. A few days later Evelyn Van Ness stopped production in the Tab room showing the diamond Gordon Randall had given her.

President Hill has difficulty finding things. One meeting night he could not locate one of our entertainers. Not long ago he spent part of his day off looking for his automobile.

The March meeting was held on the eve of the milk strike. Expectantly, Ben Little announced he intended taking home the half pint of milk served him. "Mac" McAlpine kidded him out of it by asking him if he intended to claim the three cents deposit on the bottle.

The SIAC's wish to welcome the many ex-service men now working in the Accident Commission: Robert Price, ex-Navy Midshipman and Army Air Corps Cpl.; Ed Harding, Lt. (jg) S. C.; Cliff Stewart, Rdm. 1/c; Walter Taylor, Inf. Pvt.; Gordon Randall, Staff Sgt.; Tom Hill, Sgt.; Ted Ullakko, Pvt.; Chas. McKinley, Air Corps Cadet and Navy Aviation Radioman; W. W.
