some very entertaining and educational sound motion pictures. (1) The color films of Death Valley in California shown by Oscar Perrine, a professional photographer who travels around the country, were superb; (2) Mel Bailey, program manager, and Douglas Billmeyer, promotion manager, both of Station KEX, pictured orally and through the use of movies the growth and expansion of radio from the crystal set stage in the early 1920's to the present-day intricate network systems; (3) Sidney A. King of the Traffic Safety Division of the Secretary of State's office gave an inspiring talk on traffic safety prior to showing the film "X Marks the Spot," which was very timely in view of the mounting death rate of both pedestrians and passengers in Oregon so far this year.

At one of our meetings, Edward Taggart of the Veterans' Administration summarized his army travels and experiences, which took him into China and India. He had an assortment of interesting souvenirs and practical articles which he collected while in the CBI Theater and which he explained in detail.

It was suggested that we have a general assembly of all chapters as we have in the past, and which proved successful. Miss Gladys Windedahl was appointed as our representative to contact the other chapters regarding the formation of an interchapter committee to plan general meetings in the future. Our regular meeting date has been changed to the first Wednesday of each month and we urge that all members become active by being present at every meeting.

We are happy to announce the following new members:

Miss Florence E. Beardsley, State Department of Education; Miss Gladys
