Mike Cisney spent his vacation touring Eastern Oregon.

Mike Barker's paving plant crew is set up at Springfield, and Pop Nash's oil crew will be in Eugene July 19. They will all be here for our chapter picnic at Swimmers' Delight, on the Willamette highway, July 21. We anticipate quite a crowd.

Melvin Erickson, formerly employed on the Newberg maintenance crew, is now working with Seller's paving plant crew at Florence. Melvin had the misfortune to lose a leg at Okinawa, but is not letting it get him down.

That broad grin on Walt Merrill's face is due to the fact that they have a new addition in the office. Ernie Umphlette got him a nice new transit to play with.

ASTORIA CHAPTER No. 8

Bill Perkins and his crew are busy repairing the ferry slip at the foot of Fourteenth street, preparatory to the State Highway Commission taking over the ferries June 1.

Frank Dillingham reports a large increase in people taking advantage of the view and picnic facilities at Bradley Park over the week-ends.

Floyd Simon has been appointed manager of the ferries at Astoria. Floyd was recently discharged from the Navy.

Upon invitation of the Tillamook chapter, fifteen members of the Astoria chapter met with them at Nehalem, May 10. A very pleasant and constructive evening was enjoyed. After the meeting a delicious lunch was served by the members of the Tillamook chapter.

Leroy Boldt, section foreman at Astoria, was a Salem visitor last week. Roy is a hard worker for the association and has done more than any one member to insure the growth and success of this chapter.

Clarence Asher, chief operator of draw bridges in this district, is installing amplifiers on the Youngs Bay bridge. This should prove to be a great improvement, as it is sometimes impossible to hear boat whistles during stormy weather or heavy road traffic.

Floyd Chestnut has returned to duty as relief operator, after recovering from a broken foot suffered by a fall at Youngs Bay bridge.
