

when the committee showed up with a group of entertainers of ability, and they have maintained the pace ever since. Just where they locate all this variety of good entertainment is something of a mystery. At the last meeting the entertainment was above average, which may have been because of the performance of one of our own members. There may be a better Swede Paul Revere than "Bud" Melin, but it is extremely unlikely.

And in addition, the committee came up with a modernized version of the old fashioned basket social, which resulted in a very enjoyable time by all at the festive board.

Our attendance this year has shown a steady increase over the usual "baker's dozen," the last meeting having almost 60 present. As good attendance is very necessary if any organization is to thrive, we think we may be pardoned for our opening remarks.

Bill Franzwa's name was drawn out of the hat for the "kitty," but he did not happen to be present, and consequently the money will go over until the next meeting. We don't suppose Bill will miss another meeting this year, as his portion would have meant at least four or five good golf balls.

Cy Suing, of the accounting department, returned from a two-day trip with his right hand bandaged. Upon questioning, it was learned he had hit a dog, and Mr. Suing, not being the hit and run type of driver, stopped to give first aid. The dog bit him. Cy reports the dog uninjured (unless it had complications as a result of the bite).

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Geibel are being felicitated upon the arrival of their daughter, Susan Kay, who was born on January 18. Bill is bearing up well. Incidentally, the Geibels are looking for a two or three bedroom house for rent, and in the event that any of you have a lead, please contact Bill in the firm department.

The many friends of Gladys Jones will be pleased to hear that she has recovered from a recent operation and is back at work.

The paid-up membership now stands at 110, and as our quota is 150, we earnestly solicit the help of all members in obtaining the additional 40 members. Our membership at this time last year was 75.
