

erine Murname, and Irma Gorton served the dessert.

Bjarne Erickson, Association President, was guest speaker at the meeting on March 5. He discussed Senate Bills No. 177, No. 127, and No. 65, and reported on their progress and meaning to state employees. Members asked him questions about these and the stand taken by the Association on such questions as the sales tax and other controversial matters now before the legislature. The dessert committee consisted of Loretta Fisher and Mary Keefer, who provided quantities of coffee, ice cream and cake.

SUCCESS CHAPTER No. 30

May we introduce ourselves to you? We are a recent addition to that great organization known as the Oregon State Employees Association. Although we're still a little new, our chapter is coming along in fine fettle. By the way, you're probably wondering why the members chose the name "Success" for a title. It stands for "State Unemployment Compensation Commission—Employment Service—State." Not a bad combination, is it? And we hope to be just that too, a SUCCESS!

Introduction of officers is next, and here they are: Jack Norton, President; Genevieve Kirtley, Vice President; Ida Humphries, Treasurer; and Jane Herman, Secretary. All are tried and true, and we're lucky to have such a fine set of officers. We're all mighty proud of them.

The Oregon  Statesman

has reported state capital news, following the capital from Oregon City to Salem to Corvallis to Salem.

It still is reporting the news—all of it—fresh with your morning coffee.

When the chapter received its charter at a recent meeting, we were honored to have Forrest Stewart, Executive Secretary; and Bjarne Erickson, State President; with us. After presenting us with our charter, both officers talked to us about the aims and purposes of the organization and the valuable benefits to be derived from belonging to the State Employees Association.

The mailman has nothing on the members of Success Chapter. Despite snow, rain, and sleet, many enthusiastic members have braved the above elements to attend meetings. President
