

chapters, No. 30 and No. 31. Forrest Stewart acted as toastmaster, introducing Robert Johnson, Bjarne Erickson, Jerry Saylor and Leo Smith, each speaking on his respective subject. After listening to these instructive talks, light refreshments were enjoyed.

We were very happy to have Vada Strohm at our April meeting. She accepted her appointment to the membership committee, assisting Mr. Harry Umbach. With a pair like that, we can't help but build up our membership. Let's give them all the help we can.

The business of the evening was interrupted by a short program rendered by the Portland Traffic Police Quartet. They entertained us for several minutes with some of those wonderful old tunes that one could sit and listen to all evening. This was followed by a very instructive talk on the pay plan by Mr. Stewart, which, of course, is always interesting to all of us.

Our past president, Allen A. French, is leaving May 24 to attend the National Conference of the Bedding and Upholstery Law Enforcement officials, of which he is national president. Mr. French will return by way of California, where he will visit other bedding and upholstery inspection departments and observe their method of conducting laboratories, etc. I'll wager he will give as much help as he receives, with the exchange of ideas. We all wish him "Bon Voyage."

—M. Eivers.

CAPITOL CHAPTER No. 19

Because of a conflicting legislative committee meeting, the Association's attorney, Leo Smith, was unable to address us on March 14, but his place was capably filled by president Bjarne Erickson, who explained the important
