

and that they were going into the second round and going pretty good.

Mr. Chidsey asked if an outline of a plan of action should be made in case present demand falls through and President White said he would call a special meeting of the Board of Directors.

President White presented a request from Klamath Falls Vocation School Chapter for a charter. The new organization asked whether instructors not under civil service would be allowed to join the Association and the Association replied that such instructors were eligible for membership and that the charter would be dated January 1, 1948. The original letter from the newly formed chapter was circulated and signed by each officer and director present. This will be known as Chapter No. 36.

There being no further business, motion was made for adjournment and the meeting adjourned at 5:20 p. m.

YWCA Helps In Leisure Hours

The assistance of this magazine has been requested in publicizing the services offered by the YWCA to women who work for the state of Oregon in Salem.

There is frequently a gap between working hours, dinner and the evening's activities. Realizing this, the staff has arranged to have the YWCA building open between 5 and 7 p. m. Women who find they need a place to spend these hours are welcome to read or rest in the living room and to write or study in the writing room. They will even find writing materials and magazines available if they have brought none with them.

It is not necessary to be a member in order to be welcomed at the YWCA. It is hoped, however, that women, who find the building and the organization of service to them, will support it by becoming a member. Annual dues are $1.50.
