Miss Lois Manning, your OSEA secretary-treasurer, has been a member of OSEA since September, 1944, and has served as secretary of her Marion chapter No. 18 and as assistant to our administrative secretary at several general council meetings. Miss Manning is well qualified, having served in state employment as secretary to the insurance commissioner for several years and in continuous employment as typist and secretary since 1925.

Lois is a graduate of Salem high school, is past president of the Cascade chapter National Secretaries Association and lends her charm and graciousness to many worthwhile civic affairs. Gardening is her hobby and it is said her "green thumb" works miracles with her flowers and shrubs. She gives unstintingly of her time to OSEA affairs and quietly and efficiently rendering a real service to the association and its members.

Phillip M. Brandt, professor of dairy husbandry and head of the department of dairy husbandry at Oregon State College, is the director of laws and legislation of the OSEA. Mr. Brandt has been a member of Corvallis Chapter No. 29 for four years and has been vice-president of the state association in 1948.

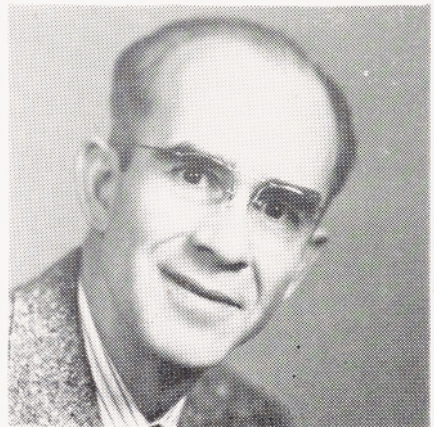

Born in Nevada, Missouri, he attended school in Nevada and graduated from the University of Missouri in 1913. He holds degrees as a B.S.
