Speaker Robert Smith Names Members of House Committees

Rep. Robert F. Smith (R-Burns), who was elected to his second consecutive term as Speaker of Oregon's House of Representatives earlier this month, has appointed House committee members.

Veteran Rep. Stafford Hansell (R-Hermiston) was named House chairman of the Legislature's powerful and influential Joint Ways and Means Committee, a post he has held since the 1965 session.

Democrats, outnumbered 34-26 in the House, got no committee chairmanships.

The Senate had not elected a president as this issue of the OSEA News went to press. Senate committee members will not be named until that body is organized.

Here are the members of House committees appointed by Speaker Smith:
