

(Banner) Power for People Who Work!

New Look For OPEU!

It seems to be something in the air. Or maybe it has something to do with summer. SEIU has adopted a new logo and is producing a new magazine with a very exciting look for SEIU member leaders and activists (See Page 24 about the new SEIU logo and SEIU Action).

Many OPEU members are sporting the new OPEU button which was introduced earlier this spring. The new red and black buttons not only identify who we are but also tells people that we're a local of the Service Employees International Union – part of one of the largest and most active labor unions in today's labor movement.

We're also carrying a new banner (See Left). So far, member feedback has been very positive. We think this new look sends a clearer message as to who we are. Let us know what you think by sending in your comments for the next issue of The Oregon Public Employee (See below for the address).
