Aftermath.

The work done by the Oregon men in the meet with Berkeley was something of a surprise even to the most sanguine Oregonians. The Californians had many advantages over the home team, but despite these, they failed to equal their 85-32 score against Stanford by 10 points. Heater is the pride of Oregon athletics, the best, all around man that our state ever produced. His work last Monday was phenomenal and he will doubtless make better records in the meets that are to come. Nor was Heater alone in the good work, although he scored many points for his team. The work of Lewis in the 100 yd. sprint and the broad jump shows that he is a clever athlete, although he did not win a point. In the 100 yd. sprint, five men came in "under a blanket," Lewis being fourth from the tape. The same was true of Palmer in both hurdles. Lewis' broad jump was dangerously close to the P. N. A. record and he may surprise some of our opponents in the near future.

In the weights, Plaw seemed to have things his own way, except in the discus throw, an event with which he was not familiar. The work of Wagner and Smith in the weight events was very encouraging. Poley and McDaniels showed up well in the distance runs, for beginners. They have great possibilities as athletes. The 880 was done in slow time, Payne winning only third place. Payne's splendid exhibition of speed in the 440. was a revelation to everyone. Captain Redmond was not in condition and should not have run. Had he been in good form, he could have won his race with ease. One of the grittiest exhibitions of the day was the 220 dash by Payne. He made a strong, close finish in this event, after having run the 880 and 440. Had Knox been in shape, he could have won at least second place in the high jump. As an exhibition of sport, the meet was the most successful ever seen in the state. From a financial standpoint, it was also a decided success. The most pleasing feature of the whole thing was the friendly spirit among the contestants and the liberal applause bestowed alike upon winner and loser. Such meets are the kind that the public like to see; the kind that promote pure sport and set up good athletic ideals. Let us have many more such contests.

Excursion.

The excursion to the Oregon-Multnomah track meet will leave Eugene, Friday, May 24, at 2 p. m., and return Sunday, May 26, at 2 p. m. Round trip, $5.00. Reduced rates at hotels. For tickets, apply to

C. N. MCARTHUR, or RAY GOODRICH.

See Heater, Palmer and Caulkins run the high hurdles next Saturday at Bang's Park. This event alone will be well worth the price of admission.

The Oregon and Washington athletic teams will attend the Band Concert at the Armory Saturday night. After the contest, there will be a big reception, a dance and a good time for everybody. Don't miss it.

Prof. and Mrs. I. M. Glen, Mrs. Claire Willoughby, Mrs. G. D. Linn, Mrs. Laura Harris, Misses Benettia Dorris, Rita Hansen, Grace Wold, Ella and Mary McAlister, Agnes Harris and Messrs. Rae Norris, Roy Robley, Cole Stanton, W. Gifford Nash and Ross Plummer are among the Eugene musicians who are taking part in the May Festival of Music in this city.—Albany Herald.
