Notes

Miss Pearl Luckey, '04, will not return to school.

Miss Alice Merriman, '05, will not return to school this year.

Wade Brooks has returned to Eugene and will resume his work at the University.

Louis St. Elmo Hooker has a lucrative position in the Oregon State Insane Asylum.

Mr. Hammond, president '04, has work in Portland where he will remain this year.

Miss Aldrich was called home to La Grande last week by the sudden death of her father.

Miss Susie Bannard, '01, and Miss Edith Bannard visited in Eugene during the Christmas vacation.

Miss Bertha Templeton, '03, has not come back to school. She may go to Portland to study music.

Condon Bean, '03, spent the latter part of the vacation in Grants Pass, visiting Ed van Dyke, '01.

Prof. McAlister's class in advanced surveying have completed a topographical survey of the campus.

Miss Mamie Scott, of Creswell, who attended the summer school, is again with us. She registered last Monday.

"A horse! a horse! My kingdom for a horse!" shouts the Cicero class, which has just started in on the oration for Milo.

Dr. Strong was considerably indisposed with an attack of tonsillitis during vacation but is now able to be about again.

Elocution course No. 5, in dramatic interpretation under Professor Glen, will be opened at the beginning of next semester.

W. B. Dillard, '00, now an instructor in the Eugene High School, has been elected manager of the track team to be put out from that institution this spring.

C. L. Campbell, during his survey last summer in the Powder River Range in Eastern Oregon, discovered some fossils of the Triassic period, the oldest in the Northwest. These shells clearly show the eastern limit of the great Shoshone Island. This is a discovery of considerable importance to geologists.

The other day Prof. Condon's geology class was apparently deeply interested in the development of Pterodactyls of the Jurassic Period into feathered birds of the Cretaceous when a genius produced these lines:

The wretched Pterodactyl
Had no place to lay his head;
The Lord looked down in pity,
And gave him a feather-bed.

Just before the vacation, at the advice of Dr. Strong, a meeting was held of all the students from Portland, with the purpose of forming some organization which would have as its object the obtaining of new students from the High School and academies of Portland. The following officers were elected, Fred Zigler, '02, president; Kirk Sheldon, '05, vice president; Grace Plummer, '02, secretary. Plans of work were discussed, and it was decided to attempt to give social affairs which would bring the members of graduating classes from Portland institutions in touch with Varsity students. Committees were appointed to draft constitution and by-laws and to arrange for a reception during the holidays. At a meeting held in Portland it was decided to defer the reception, but to attempt next year to work in connection with the alumni residing in Portland. At present the members will do what they can by personal work to help along the cause of our State University in the state's metropolis.
