

Always be On Time

Can't do it though with a treacherous watch. If your watch don't run just right bring it around. We will give it a thorough overhauling and will guarantee it to work full time every day after that.

Philologian.

The Philologian Literary Society met Friday evening, and rendered a short program. A recitation was given by Joe Templeton, while Ralph Bacon of the Laureans extemporized an address. The question under discussion was, "Resolved, That Prohibition is the best solution of the liquor question." The affirmative was supported by Carl Davis and B. F. Wagner while Chandler Watson and H. G. Moulton spoke on the negative. Coke Bilyeu rendered some pointed and well taken remarks after which the president gave the decision to the negative.

All members are urged to come out to the meeting next Friday evening for the election of officers.

Notes.

President Strong went to Portland last Friday.

Prof. George Lilley was unable to meet classes Friday on account of illness.

Dr. Strong was confined to his room several days last week with an attack of "grippe."

Miss Isabel Jakway was called to Portland recently by the severe illness of her sister.

Chester Starr spent a few days at his home in Brownsville during the latter part of the week.

H. E. Doering, who has been spending a few weeks in San Francisco, has returned to Eugene.

The Dormitory lads are finding considerable amusement in their latest game, "roley-hotey."

The Chemical Seminar did not hold a meeting Monday evening on account of Dr. Lachman's illness.

Subscriptions have been taken to purchase a new vaulting pole. The old one was broken during practice.

In the last issue it was stated that Examinations begin June 9. This is a mistake, as they begin on June 4.

Marion Cleaver, who has been attending the University the past year, left last Thursday for his home at Lebanon.

About twenty-five High School students are now training on the U. O. track. Their try-out comes off next Saturday.

Tennis is in full swing along with the good weather. The Sophomore class is talking of reorganization, and, if this is done, the old Freshman court will be put in shape again.

Ross Plummer has dropped his work at the University and gone to Portland. He will finish his course next year at the University, after which he will attend a medical school in the East.

Senior parts may now be unlimited in the number of words, according to the latest decision of the faculty. Formerly the limit was 1200 words. This ruling does not apply to competitors for the Failing and Beekman prizes.

Dr. Wise to Give the Baccalaureate Sermon.

The Senior Class has obtained Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of Portland Beth Israel Temple to deliver the Baccalaureate Sermon on Sunday June 15. The class is to be congratulated for securing such an able man. His power as an orator was very evident during his visit in Eugene last week.
