Miss Camilla Leach returned Friday after a well earned vacation from her duties as librarian. Mrs. S. C. Church had charge of the library during Miss Leach's absence.

All students remaining in the city were invited guests of the Dorm. Club at an informal dance on New Year's night. The reception room was decorated with ivy, which also festooned the walls of the dining room, where punch was served. Mrs. Church and Mrs. Duff were patronesses. The dance was a most enjoyable affair, and all present voted the Dorm. boys capital entertainers.

Fred Moullen, captain-elect of the football eleven, was in Portland during the greater part of the holidays. While there he refereed the Spokane-Multnomah and St. Louis-Multnomah games. Fred is a recognized authority on football and as an official gives general satisfaction.

The next inter-class, cross-country tryout will not be held on Jan. 11 as previously announced, but sometime in the early part of February.

The Portland Journal announces that Dan Kelly, Oregon's premier sprinter, will be a strong candidate for the American athletic team which is to compete in England.

The cuts of Football Manager Grover J. Kestly and Manager-Elect Ralph B. McEwen, which appear in this issue, arrived too late to appear in the Christmas edition along with Manager Kestly's report.

"Dud" Clark, Oregon's star fullback, lined up with Multnomah on New Year's day against the St. Louis eleven. It was due largely to his superior punting that the Portland clubmen landed the victory.
