Borleske 1; hit by pitcher, Coleman and Brubaker; stolen bases, Kestley 4. Sacrifice hits, Paine 1, Houston 1.

Time, 1 hour, 25 minutes.

Umpire, Ben Bingham.

Scorer, Virgil Cooper and C. Marvin.

On Friday Whitman started out auspiciously and got a man across the plate in the first inning, through a bad error by an Oregon player. Oregon failed to score until the third inning when Dutcher for Whitman, had a bad chapter and four Oregon men, Hathaway, Taylor, Clifford and Coleman registered at the home plate. In the fifth Clarke, of Oregon, rapped out a two base hit, stole third and scored on a single by Harvey Houston.

The loss of the game by Whitman cannot be attributed to their pitcher, Dutcher, who pitched a good game; but rather to the costly errors made by his team mates. Whitman has a snappy team and can give any college baseball nine in the Northwest a hard game.

On the Oregon team everybody played well. Hurd and Clifford in the pitcher's box allowed only five and six hits respectively. Taylor, at the receiving end is the best catcher Oregon has had for years. Paine, Houston and Hathaway on the bases were steady, cool and effective as usual. Coleman at short was a star especially in Thursday's game. In the field Clifford,

Clarke, Ramp and Kestley all played brilliant games. Kestley's basestealing on Thursday was a feature of the game.

Coach Leonard and Captain Hathaway may well be proud of the team of 1908. The next game for Oregon will be played at Portland on Monday with Columbia University.

At Syracuse University the freshmen and sophomores hold an annual "snow rush." The two classes gather on opposite sides of a walk and at a given signal try to force their way across it. The class which succeeds in crossing it and maintaining its position for fifteen minutes is declared the winner.—Ex.

A tour of South America is being arranged for the Cornell football team for next summer. A challenge was recently given them by the Paulista Association Football League of Brazil.—Ex.

The honor system, as tried in class rooms, has been discarded by Yale Seniors and they have returned to the old faculty monitor system.—Ex.

A graduate of Chicago University was the leader of a mob of hungry Bulgarians who paraded Chicago last week, invading the City hall.

Agitation of the canoe question continues in a desultory fashion, with some hope of ultimate satisfaction to all persons interested.

The Whitman ball players were entertained at the fraternity houses and the dormitory during their stay in Eugene.

Stanford has arranged to absorb the Cooper Medical Institute by 1912, calling it Stanford School of Medicine.

The Freshman track team has elected as manager for the season Geo. M. White, formerly of H. M. A.

Harvard defeated Princeton, April 11, in a shooting contest by the close score of 193 to 190.

W. S. C. beat Seattle High School at baseball Tuesday, by the score of 10 to 4.

VACATION TIME HERE AGAIN

Many Students Go to Their Own Homes, While Others Will Spend Holidays in Eugene

Most of the students of the University have gone home for the Easter vacation, but there are a number remaining in Eugene yet. At the Beta Epsilon house are Mrs. Jones, Sue Hayes, Cornelia Pinkham and Edna Zimmerman. Gladys Farrar, Ruth Dunniway and Mary Howard will remain at the Tau Pi house. At the Sigma Nu house are Ormond Bean, Wm. Lowell, Harvey Stackpole, Ralph McEwen, Ralph Dodson and Tom Burke. Don Stevenson, Bert Schumacher, Dell McCarty, Louis Pinkham, Frank Sullivan, Olin Arnspiger, Dean Goodman, and Merle Chessman are still under the roof of the Delta Alpha house, and at the Kappa Sigma's are Victor Voight, Wm. Wood, Glenn Scott, Gerald Eastham and Harry Swart.

Among the students who have left for home are Dean Hayes, Pete Whittlessy, Bob Oberteuffer, Harold Germanus, Lloyd Brook, Harvard Moore, Oliver Huston, Arthur Geary, Jessie Hurley, Hazel Brown, Blanche Huston, Jessie Chase, Agnes Beach, Helen Beach, Frances Oberteuffer, Vivian Holmes, Gertrude Holmes and Gladys McKenzie to Portland; George Sullivan, Nieta Harding, Edna and Clara Caufield to Oregon City, Edgar Smith, Elmer Storie, John Dixon, and Jennie Perry to Pendleton; Gordon Moores and Ralph Cronise to Salem; Francis and Bob Nelson and Lena Miller to Albany; Earl Strong and Kate Fullerton to Roseburg, and John Jerry Kestley, Jr., to Springfield.

Harvey Slater, H. C. Moore, Forrest Bartrum, R. K. Terry and E. F. Strong will spend Easter vacation by their respective hearthstones.

E. J. Bertsch, who was severely burned in a chemical explosion recently, will spend Easter at home and hopes to return fully recovered.

A canoe trip down the Willamette river is the outing planned by Earl Hawley, J. S. Cooper and George White.

Harold Merryman, the popular manager of the Beaver, is spending his vacation at home in Portland.
