A FESTIVAL EXTRAORDINARY

sponse to the appeals of the audience, was followed by the "Vorspiel," Wagner. The precedent of high artistic achievement which the orchestra established in these opening numbers was maintained throughout the evening by the soloists and chorus in the rendering of Dudley Buck's "Golden Legend." This number gave more room for dramatic interpretation than did the "Holy City," and Mrs. Wilson as Elsie, Mrs. Gannon as Bertha, Mr. Miller as Prince Henry, and Mr. Middleton as Lucifer, and Friar Paul, left none of its possibilities unfulfilled.

The work of the chorus was mostly in the way of responses to the solo voices. It was, accordingly, characterized by delicate pianissimo shadings. However, in the triumphant finale, "O, Beauty of Holiness," all previous efforts of the chorus were outdone and the glorious fortissimo movements furnished a climax none too grand for the closing of such a festival.
