Debate Postponed.

The championship debate which was to have been held at the University of Oregon on March 15, has been postponed for two weeks on account of the sickness of a member of the Lebanon trio. The debate which will be held on March 29, will decide the Interscholastic championship of the state. Both the Astoria and the Lebanon teams have won the championship in their respective districts so that the final debate between the two rivals on May 29 will be quite spirited.

A recent letter received by Dr. Geo. O'B. DeBar from his daughter Florence DeBar, '06, who is now attending Wellesley College, states that Miss Florence is getting along well in her college work and is enjoying the best of health.

A meeting of the Senior class was held Thursday afternoon to consider commencement details.

ENGINEERING CLUB MEETING

Held Friday Evening—Several Interesting Talks Made by Faculty Members and Students

Last Friday evening the Engineering Club provided an especially interesting program.

W. E. McIntyre spoke on the subject of pocket hunting for gold in Southern Oregon. When the pocket-hunter finds a trace of gold he follows it up the gulch, using a pan, until the trace runs out. He then starts up the hill side from the place where he finds the last trace and pans the hillside dirt until he runs the trace to bedrock. He may then have a pocket worth anywhere from $1.00 to $300,000.00.

Prof. DeCou was called upon for an extemporaneous speech. He traced the progress of the transcontinental railroads across Canada. The new Grand Trunk line will have its western terminus near the southern border of Alaska. The Canadian Rail Roads are becoming stronger competitors of Hill's and Harriman's systems each year. Their lines are shorter and the western terminals are closer to China.

P. P. Adams spoke of the Yukon country, contrasting conditions there in 1897 and in 1908.

The last speaker on the program was Pres. Campbell. The subject of his address was "The Engineer's Education." He urged the engineering students to take five years for their college course. They should endeavor to get all the knowledge possible outside of engineering. The center of all education is centered around the person. Its object is to make a man in the broadest sense of the word. The old education left man a dreamer. The strictly engineering education leaves a man narrow and material. The Engineering and Literature, Science, and Arts buildings should be on the same campus. The liberal minded man is the one now in demand.

Some eastern Universities are requiring a five year course in Engineer-
