Which Committees Have Suggested For Junior Day—Many Improvements Contemplated

Junior week-end plans as announced in the last issue of the Weekly were approved at a meeting of the Junior class held last Monday afternoon. A Junior prom is assured; the exact details are in charge of a committee. Chairman Bob Nelson has announced improvement work for Junior Day as follows: the construction of forty feet of cement sidewalk west of Deady Hall, financed by the University; the building of 100 feet of bleachers on Kincaid Field, financed by the student body; and the erection of an immense cement "O" on the butte, financed by the Eugene Commercial Club. The sidewalk gang will be in charge of Walter Moore; the bleacher builders will look to Don Stevenson for instructions; while Guy Kennedy will superintend the work on the butte. The co-ed dinner at noon will be ample for all comers who bear the marks of toil. The women of the University have selected committees from the several classes to prepare refreshments. Each class will serve some particular course at a class table decorated with the class colors. These tables will occupy the four corners of the dormitory reception room.

TRACK TEAM GOES NORTH

To Meet Washington State College And Whitman—Hayward Predicts Success

Victory for Oregon is Bill Hayward's prediction as to the outcome of the coming track meets with Whitman and W. S. C. Hayward's predictions are generally accurate and are never based on imaginary hopes. He has figured things out accurately, and on the strength of the showing of the men in the tryouts believes that, barring accidents, the scores should be Whitman 58, Oregon 64, and W. S. C. 54, Oregon 68. This does not include the relay. This is a small margin of course and the strong Missionary and Pullman teams may have things figured out as equally favorable to themselves.

Manager O. Bean will take on the trip the following men:—Huston, Kuykendall, Moon, Roberts, Reid, Dodson, Mays, Downs, Sievers, Zacharias, Moullen, McIntire, Gardner and Lowell. These men secured their places by a tryout held Saturday.

He says: "It is the worst possible; advertising the state could have."
